

Harriman, Officer of the Blue Eagle is Now its Real Chief

WASHINGTON—The NRA has a new boss. He isn't listed as such on the rolls. He is not even a member of the Blue Eagle board. But he is top man, notwithstanding. The new generalissimo is tall, saw-toothed, W. Averell Harriman, socialite, polo player and multi-millionaire. By inheritance he is head of the Union Pacific Railroad and a director in many corporations. Officially, Harriman has the title of Executive Officer and as such is nominally subordinate to the NRA board by whom he was appointed. Actually he is the whole works.

Few outside the inner group of NRA executives know it, but Harriman has been presiding over NRA board meetings for some time. With the retirement of Chairman S. Clay Williams his grip on the Blue Eagle doubled.

Shy and ill-at-ease in public, Harriman assiduously courts the background—although, privately, he would like to be summoned before the Senate Finance Committee, whose members know nothing about him.

But everything that transpires in the NRA passes over Harriman's desk.

And when it comes to speaking for the Blue Eagle, it is Harriman who does the talking. Every afternoon at 2:30 o'clock he holds a press conference.

Harriman likes to consider himself a liberal, but his theories of what should be done about the NRA have a decidedly pro-industrial slant.

At one of his press conferences Harriman proposed that the NRA should be rewritten to eliminate the famous collective bargaining Section 7a and to give industry a larger measure of "self-government."

Tough Guy

Congressional mail has its sorrows and occasionally its joys. Recently Philadelphia's Representative Frank Dorsey received a letter from a constituent demanding that he vote against the World Court.

At much pains, Dorsey replied that such matters were not subject to House action, but were dealt with solely by the Senate. He even included quotations from the Constitution in his letter.

A few days later Dorsey received the following answer from the voter:

"So that's the kind of a man we elected? Afraid to express the will of the people because of a few cock-eyed rules. Why in hell don't you go over to the Senate and tell them what we voters want done?"

Hide and Seek

Washington police are playing a game of hide-and-seek these days with the operators of gambling joints in the District of Columbia. Increased demand for gambling came with Washington's New Deal prosperity.

Something more than vigilance has been required of District police. They operate under the handicap of not being allowed to use the "small warrant." In other words, before making arrests they must gain access to a joint and actually make a play. Then follows the affidavit, the warrant, and the raid.

To be dressed in plain clothes is not sufficient disguise. Operators now no strangers past the heavily barred doors, unless properly introduced.

BERGER BILLS AGAIN TALKED BY CITY DADS

Shaner Says Council Failed to Back Him in Collection Idea

UP TO COMMITTEE

Safety Director Also Hits School Patrols

Complaint that council had failed to back him up in his effort to collect delinquent bills at Berger hospital was voiced Wednesday evening by L. T. Shaner, safety director in Mayor W. B. Cady's administration, at the regular council meeting.

Mr. Shaner occupied the center of the stage during a large part of Wednesday's meeting with collection of bills and abuse of the safety patrol system as operated at city schools being topics for discussion.

The safety director declared that he would like to have the bills, which now amount to more than $4,000, collected and would like to have council devise some method. "The superintendent cannot collect the bills and I believe it takes a specialist to do the work. I had a system worked out a while ago but council failed to back me up although I was abused in the newspaper after I selected an agency to do the job. The agency quit because we would not sign a contract," he declared.

Approves Letters

The month after the collection agency (a Jackson, O., outfit operated by a man named Shaner) sent letters to a number of delinquent, Mr. Shaner said, more than $1,600 was received at the hospital. He expressed belief that the letters sent by the agency did some good.

Councilman C. O. Leist, chairman of the hospital committee, expressed regret that the agency's work has not been continued saying that he thought the collection work would have been taken care of.

Solicitor Carl Leist said he didn't believe it was his duty to ride the streets and try to collect the money due the hospital and Councilman Ben H. Gordon assailed appointment of a collection agency to try to get the money due the institution.

The matter was finally placed in the hands of the hospital committee, C. O. Leist, Ben Gordon and Frank A. Marion, with instructions from President John Goeller to try to learn what other hospitals are doing.

Opposed to Flags

Mr. Shaner's next declaration was that the flag signal system as employed to halt traffic to permit school children to cross highly— (Continued On Page Eight)

BLOSSER CRITICAL

John Blosser, son-in-law of Dr. D. V. Courtright, E. Mound-st., is in a very serious condition at his home on Caldwell-st., Chillicothe. He was removed to his home, Wednesday, from Mt. Carmel hospital, where he has been undergoing medical observation for the past several weeks.

COUNCIL 'APPROVES' DOESN'T 'CONFIRM' MERCHANT OFFICER

Council, Wednesday, declined to "confirm" W. W. Crissinger as merchant policeman but did "approve" of action of a number of merchants in appointing him to guard their property.

A petition asking "confirmation" of Crissinger as the merchant policeman was read in council but President John Goeller and others expressed belief that it was not up to council to "confirm" the appointment since the job is not city supported.

ROTARIANS VISIT STRAWBOARD PLANT

Rotarians enjoyed a trip through the Container Corporation plant Thursday, as guests of Ross Hunsicker, manager. After the meeting at the American Hotel the members went to the plant and Mr. Hunsicker personally conducted them through the plant and explained its operation.

The trip was greatly enjoyed and the members were pleased to learn of the many improvements that have been made during the past several years.

Council Passes Age Legislation

"Me Colored Too"—Windows Shattered

NEW YORK, Mar. 21—Police revealed today how a Chinese laundry proprietor "outfoxed" himself at the height of Tuesday night's rioting in Harlem.

Business neighbors of the Chinese hung signs bearing the word "colored" in their store windows in the hope the rioters would not molest establishments maintained by negroes.

So the laundryman hung out a large placard: "Me colored too."

MELL FAVORS VETS' PAYMENT

Joins 17 Other Members of Ohio Delegation; Patman Measure Is Favored

Congressman Mell G. Underwood and 17 of the other members of the Ohio delegation in the house of representatives are in favor of immediate payment of the soldier's bonus, according to a poll conducted today.

Underwood has always been known as favorable to the legislation.

Three of the Ohio group are opposed while three others are rated in the doubtful class.

It is believed the Patman bill, inflationary since it proposed payment through printing of new money, will be substituted for the Vinson bill under which the bonus would be paid through issuance of government bonds.

WASHINGTON, March 21—A powerful campaign by the American legion for votes cast doubt today upon the house's choice of a $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus bill to be sent on to the senate.

With two bills—the Vinson-Legion and the Patman-veterans-of-foreign-wars bills—topping all others in house consideration, both factions were making a desperate bid for votes.

75 EXPECTED AT COLLEGE DINNER

Approximately 75 are expected to attend the spring vacation dinner meeting of the Pickaway-co Ohio State Club at the American Hotel Coffee shop at 6:30 p. m. today.

Pat J. Kirwin, S. Court-st., president of the club, will preside.

Dr. W. H. Cowley, head of the personnel division of the bureau of educational research at Ohio State university, will speak on "The College of Today."

Students and their parents and persons who have attended Ohio State are invited to the meeting.

Hospital News

Mrs. Lillian Giffin, W. High-st., is a patient in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, for observation.

Charlotte Strawser, 16, of Stoutsville, was admitted to Berger hospital Thursday for treatment.

New Women's Store to Open

The Fashion Shop, a new ladies' store, managed by N. Groban, formerly of Cincinnati, will be open for business at 108 W. Main-st Friday at 9 a. m.

The shop is strictly for women with quality merchandise to be offered at popular prices. Ladies' dresses, coats, suits, millinery, hosiery, lingerie and everything else that women will buy will be attractively displayed. No merchandise will be kept in boxes; all will be before the eyes of the customer.

Mr. Groban said today in announcing his plans for the opening that the store will carry a complete line of half-sizes and large sizes.

38 Is Top Age for Patrolmen, Firemen, While Age for Appointment to Chief of Either Department Is Set At 40

The age limit for appointees to police and fire departments today was seen as a probable campaign issue in the council election to take place this fall.

Council, after a long, drawn-out attempt to legislate the age limits for the two departments, passed under suspension of rules, Wednesday evening, the following age limitations:

Patrolmen and firemen, 24 to 38 years.

Service Men In Cold

Nothing is mentioned in the ordinance concerning ex-service men although a number of veterans appeared in council several weeks ago and urged that the age limit be placed at 40 for all appointees or else waived altogether in the case of service men. Some veterans have gone so far as to declare they will fight the candidacies of councilmen who favored the lower age limitation of 24 and 35 then 24 and 38 years, arrived at as a compromise among councilmen.

James McLaughlin, civil service commissioner, informed council after its vote that an examination would be held within a brief time in an effort to fill eligible lists for all appointive positions.

Appointees must be not less than 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 150 pounds and must be residents of the city for three years before applying for a job and must live within the city limits during employment. A grade of 70 per cent in a civil service examination and successful negotiation of a physical examination are other requirements.

Rules Suspended

Since the ordinance which had been discussed time after time was stringently revised it was introduced as a new ordinance and passed under suspension of rules. All councilmen voted to suspend the rules and pass the legislation.

LYNCH TO APPOINT FOUR COMMITTEES

Joe M. Lynch, president of the Athletic club, may be the key man in reorganization of that club as a result of a meeting Wednesday evening which committees of the CAC, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs attended.

Lynch was voted power to appoint committees on finance, house, membership and entertainment each to include one member of each of the four organizations.

After some discussion it was deemed advisable that the exact financial status of the club be ascertained and the club program be outlined by the house committee before a membership drive is made.

An effort is being made to rejuvenate the CAC and all civic organizations are trying to assist. The CAC members have voted to accept the assistance of the various committees.

4 YOUTHS HELD

Virgil Dixon, Harold Rambo, Russell Smith and Berman Moss, all local youths, were held in city jail overnight after they were arrested while acting suspiciously in an alley in the uptown business district. They were taken to jail by Officer Alva Shasteen.

They were booked for investigation.

NED BELL HURT AS AUTO-TRAIN HIT AT HIGH-ST.

Jackson-twp Man's Head Cut, Right Arm Fractured at 6:48 a. m.

WAS ENROUTE HOME

N. & W. Passenger Train Delayed 10 Minutes

Ned H. Bell, well known Jackson-twp farmer, was in Berger hospital today suffering a deep cut on his head and a fractured right arm after his automobile was struck by No. 33, Norfolk & Western passenger train, at 6:48 a. m. Thursday.

The accident happened at the W. High-st grade crossing. Mr. Bell's automobile was badly damaged in the collision.

The passenger train was traveling toward Columbus and had not reached its full speed or the accident might have been a fatal one.

Returning to Farm

Mr. Bell had brought a Jackson-twp youth to this city to go to work and was returning to his farm when the rear end of his car was struck. The injured man was taken to Berger hospital in the Albaugh Co. ambulance. His injuries were treated by Dr. Lloyd Jones.

The Bell automobile was knocked to the east bound track and railroad traffic was delayed until the car was removed. The passenger train was delayed about 10 minutes.

Fred Goetz, of Portsmouth, road foreman in charge of engines, was operating the locomotive at the time of the accident.

DEATH TAKES SCREEN ACTOR

William Boyd Dies In Hospital; Blood Transfusions Fail to Save Life

HOLLYWOOD, March 21—William Boyd, stage and screen actor, died suddenly in a hospital here shortly before midnight.

Stricken with gastric hemorrhages he was rushed to a hospital from his Hollywood hills home, and blood transfusions were resorted to in a vain effort to save his life.

Boyd, known as "stage" Boyd to distinguish him from another actor, came here from New York after talking pictures succeeded the silent movies. He was one of the first of the Broadway notables drafted to the movies for talking pictures.

Specializing in character roles—mostly of the hard-boiled type—he became an instant screen success.

Among the last pictures in which Boyd appeared was "Trans - Atlantic Merry - Go - Round."

Boyd, who was born in New York 45 years ago, made his first stage appearance in "Peter Pan." He also appeared in "What Price Glory," considered his greatest stage work.

EBLIN, BRUNGS UP FOR PAROLE

George Eblin and Fred Brungs, local youths, will be given parole hearings at the Mansfield reformatory April 1. Both are serving one to 15 years for burglary and larceny.

They were sentenced in January, 1934.

WANT OLD RAGS

Members of the American Legion auxiliary are soliciting material which may be used by patients in veterans' hospitals for making into rugs and carpets, and requests that bundles of rags be taken to Memorial hall on Saturday.

Strange Suit

Mrs. Doris Preisler Damage amounting to $200,000 are sought by Mrs. Doris Preisler and her husband, Sidney Preisler, from a film producing company and a Hollywood movie theater as a result of the death of their unborn child. Mrs. Preisler alleges her child was born prematurely as a result of nervous shock after she has observed a newsreel portraying the bullet-ridden body of "Baby Face" Nelson, Chicago gangster, last December.

INCREASE OF ARMY IS SEEN

May Add 165,000 Men to War Department; Germany Action Brings Move

WASHINGTON, March 21—Mandatory increase of the army from 118,750 to 165,000 men appeared likely today following a conference between House and Senate leaders in charge of the war department appropriation bill.

Although the conferees failed to conclude their deliberations, Rep. Parks (D) of Arkansas, announced there was increasing sentiment for the mandatory increase. They expect to reach a decision next week.

The house authorizes the president to increase the enlisted strength as he sees fit while the senate ordered the additions and appropriated $20,000,000 for this purpose. The senate also added $2,500,000 for enlarging the national guard by 5,000 men.

The fight for the mandatory increase gained support in the house following news of Germany's armament program.

KIWANIANS GATHER HERE THIS EVENING

Meeting Starts at 6:30 With 13 Clubs Represented; Newcomb Is Speaker

More than 200 Kiwanians are expected to attend a district meeting in Memorial hall beginning at 6:30 p. m. Thursday. The local club is acting as host with 12 other clubs to be represented.

Every Kiwanis district in Ohio is meeting this evening with Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, to make an address at 8 p. m. over a telephone-radio hook-up. The address will require about 20 minutes. It is believed, with the talk being part of the program.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 with a splendid musical and speaking program to follow. George Kah and Pete Laudeman, Portsmouth, will be in charge of group singing. The former is rated one of the best leaders in Ohio while the latter is equally as efficient at the piano. Accordion music will also have a part in the program with Walter Shop of Sabina, to be on hand to play his expensive instrument.

The highlight of the evening will be an address by Prof. Charles Newcomb, of Delaware, whose topic will be: "How to be Happy Though Educated." Newcomb is widely known as a humorist and his talk is an entirely new one.

Several of the clubs are sending representatives in busses. In addition to the local club Kiwanians will be here from Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Logan, Lancaster, Northwest Columbus, Lindon Heights, Northern Columbus, Delaware, Newark, Marysville, New Lexington and Downtown Columbus.

The meeting will be the largest Kiwanis gathering ever held here.

NEED FOUR CHARGES TO KILL TOUGH GUY

CHICAGO, March 21—Chester Novak, 30-year-old killer, made good his boast that he would be "the toughest guy they ever burned in that chair" when he was electrocuted early today at Cook-co jail.

His executioners gave the self-styled "tough guy" the usual two jolts of electricity after he had marched, soldier-like, to the chair.

Witnesses assumed he was dead and prepared to leave. But he wasn't dead, as the six doctors who examined him attested. For the first time in the history of the county jail death room, two more burning jolts of electricity were administered—one of 1,900 volts, one of 900.

CASH RELIEF GRANTS SEEN

Stillman to Inaugurate System April 15; More Employees Off Payroll

COLUMBUS, March 21—A state-wide plan of allowing cash relief grants to replace grocery orders will be inaugurated in Ohio April 15, Charles C. Stillman, federal relief administrator for Ohio, announced today.

Simultaneously, Stillman announced the dismissal of 25 additional employees at the state relief headquarters here. The dismissals bring the total number of employees discharged since Stillman took over the federal relief administration a week ago to 60 persons.

To Be Independent

Announcing the plan for state-wide cash relief grants, Stillman asserted the move was being made to satisfy the desires of those on relief "to be independent."

"There is no geography of human nature," Stillman said. "We must be solicitous of the welfare of people on relief."

The cash relief plan, Stillman said, will be optional. Those who prefer to continue receiving groceries may do so, he said. The relief director stated, however, it was believed the cash relief plan would meet the favor of the majority of those on relief.

Payments will be made by either cash or check, Stillman said. A ruling is being sought from the state tax commission to determine if the relief checks will serve as evidence for exemption from the state sales tax.

Exempt From Tax

Grocery orders now are exempt from the sales tax levy and it is hoped, Stillman said, that orders placed with the presentation of relief checks also may be exempted.

Only one other state in the nation is operating on a cash relief plan. New Jersey has such a plan in operation and, Stillman said, it is reported to be "very efficient there."

CCC YOUTH WEDS

Word has been received here that William Robinson, former high school football player who is now a member of the Civilian Conservation corps, has married an Arvin, Calif., girl, named Ruby Geer. The marriage was announced by the bride's mother.

AGED PICKAWAY-TP WOMAN IS CLAIMED

Mrs. Deniza Radcliffe, 91, Dies; Funeral Services to Be Friday

Mrs. Deniza Sutter Radcliffe, aged 91, one of Pickaway-co's oldest women, died Wednesday at the home of her son, Charles, in Pickaway-twp. She succumbed after a paralytic stroke.

She was the widow of Isaac Radcliffe.

Besides the son at whose home she died she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Anna Webb of Webbville, Ky., Mrs. Mollie Thompson of Holden, W. Va., Henry of Cowen, Okla., and Andrew of Champaign, W. Va.

The funeral will be Friday at 10 a. m. at the Kingston Methodist church with Rev. Paul Nicewander officiating. Burial will be in Kingston by Donald E. Whetsel.

George Green, night officer, has been named secretary of the police pension board replacing Raymond H. Smith, resigned.

GRAND JURORS HEAR DETAILS IN RELIEF WAR

Hoskins Calls Members Relief Department Others Before Jury

POULSON TO TESTIFY

Dan Duffy, Davey's Aide, is First Called

COLUMBUS, March 21—While Democratic members of the state legislature called upon President Roosevelt "to right the wrong done our governor," scene of Ohio's spectacular and sensational relief squabble shifted today to the Franklin-co grand jury here.

Investigation by the grand jury of the so-called relief scandal, which has drawn Ohio sharply into the limelight of national news and which has become a topic of gossip and comment as it involves the "New Deal" administration in Washington, was called by Franklin-co Prosecutor Donald J. Hoskins.

Nine subpoenas, including one for State Democratic Chairman Francis A. Poulson, have been issued by Hoskins in connection with the probe, directed on the basis of affidavits furnished by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in Washington of an alleged "shake-down" of firms selling relief supplies.

"Shakedown" Charged

The "shake-down," according to the allegations of Hopkins, was for the purpose of replenishing the coffers of the Democratic campaign and inaugural funds.

W. R. McNamara, the suspended director of the surplus commodities division at the relief commission, who signed an affidavit in Washington on March 16, stating that attaches of Democratic headquarters asked him to help collect $10,000 to make up a campaign deficit, was an early arrival at the courthouse.

"To me it is a laughing matter," he smiled. "I see no wrong-doing and I believe the probe is going to fall flat."

In his wake came Tom Jones, McNamara's assistant at the surplus commodities division, he has (Continued On Page Eight)

NAZIS SCOFF AT PROTESTS

Say Other European Powers Broke Versailles Treaty Long Before They Did

By International News Service.

The European arms crisis neared a showdown today as France and Italy protested to Berlin over Reich rearmament and Germany countered with a vigorous rejoinder, accusing the former allies of violating their peace pact and disarmament pledges. Developments in leading capitals:

Paris—France cited Germany before the League of Nations and sent a strong protest to Berlin, charging the Reich with disturbing the peace of Europe by alleged unilateral violation of the Versailles treaty.

Rome—The Italian government dispatches a similar note, insisting German rearmament must be achieved by international consent. Berlin—The Reich government flatly rejected both protests, staging a sensational counter-march by accusing the allies of violating the Versailles treaty long before Germany decided to restore military conscription.

RUNAWAYS TAKEN BACK TO HOMES

Two 14-year-old Columbus girls, reported runaways, were returned to their homes Wednesday evening by Juvenile Officer Frank Goff who, with Officer Carl Radcliff, took them into custody. The girls were Addie Powell, 252 Jewett-st., and Evelyn Osborne, 210 E. Donaldson-st.

Well Being Drilled At Berger Hospital

A well is being drilled at Berger hospital by Harley Noggle, under direction of Safety Director L. T. Shaner. The driller is now down 140 feet and plans to go 20 feet farther in an effort to strike good water.

COUNCIL TOLD NOT TO VOTE NEW GAS RATE

W. H. Phipps, of Universal Pipeline Co., Warns Act May Hinder His Contract

Officials of Circleville and Chillicothe have received a communication from W. H. Phipps, president of the Universal Pipeline Co., advising them not to negotiate a rate with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. on the grounds that it would complicate dealings with the pipeline company and might even prevent consummation of the city's agreement with the latter concern.

The letter was received here by Solicitor Carl C. Leist, who read in a committee meeting, off the council record, Wednesday evening, Solicitor Phil Butler, of Chillicothe, received the same warning.

Phipps says that pipe will begin to be laid between gas field and Circleville, through Chillicothe and Portsmouth about April 1, contracts to this effect having already been signed.

In his letter, Phipps says he does not believe it would be wise to take any action with the gas company at this time as it might prevent or interfere with any condemnation proceedings should the Universal lay its lines here. He also declares that the same situation exists at Canton where the pipeline company will be held up until a present contract between the city of Canton and the gas company expires.

"This compromise effort is being introduced, I feel sure, for the purpose of defeating our purpose," Phipps wrote Leist.

In view of the contentions outlined in Phipps' letter, Leist is making a thorough investigation of the legal side of the question, having previously been of the opinion that any agreement entered into the gas company by way of an ordinance would not affect the status of the city's contract with the Universal.

FUNERAL DIRECTOR IS CLAIMED AT 54

COLUMBUS, March 21—Ferdinand P. Schoedinger, 54, funeral director, active in Masonry and other organizations, died of heart disease Wednesday night. He was a past president of the National Funeral Directors' association. He leaves his widow, a daughter and a son.

Banishing Illiteracy

Miss Margaret E. Brennecke

Reading, writing and a background of practical education may be China's weapon for banishing war lords and bandit gangs, says Miss Margaret E. Brennecke, who has just returned to the United States after five years working as secretary for the Y. W. C. A. in Chefoo, China. "Great masses of the people who can neither read nor write are pushed this way and that by military leaders," says Miss Brennecke, "and forced to pay tribute because they are both helpless and know not what else to do. China is now looking at this weakness and doing something about it by establishing schools everywhere."

BURK APPROVAL IS POSTPONED

COLUMBUS, March 21—Approval of Clarence H. Burk as director of liquor control in Ohio was delayed in the senate Wednesday when the name was sent back to the rules committee. It was explained by Senator Paul Yoder, Democratic leader: "The Republicans don't want to act until Democrats are unified and the Democrats are not unified."

FRIENDS HONOR MRS. ROY BEATY

A group of friends arranged a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beaty, W. Mound-st., Wednesday, as a pleasant surprise for Mrs. Beaty, celebrating her birthday anniversary.

Following the dinner at 6:30 o'clock a merry evening was spent at the card tables. Bridge was in progress at four tables and high score awards were presented Mrs. N. E. Reichelderfer and M. S. Rinehart.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helwagen, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denman, Mr. and Mrs. George Dresbach, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Chalfin, Mrs. F. M. McCollister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price and Mr. and Mrs. Beaty.

D. U. V. SEWING CIRCLE MEETS

Mrs. E. L. Price and Mrs. E. L. Tolbert were hostesses to members of the Daughters of the Union Veterans sewing circle, Wednesday afternoon, when they met in the Post room at Memorial hall for their bi-monthly session.

The enjoyable hours spent in sewing were concluded when the hostesses served refreshments.

In two weeks Mrs. James Trimmer and Mrs. Bertha Walker will entertain the circle.

MRS. BOGGS HOSTESS TO CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. John Boggs, W. Union-st., was hostess to members of her two table bridge club at her home, Wednesday evening.

At the conclusion of the interesting game favor for top score was presented Mrs. George P. Foreman.

Next week the club will meet with Mrs. R. R. Bales, E. Main-st.

STATE CONVENTION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS IN APRIL

Ohio club women will gather in Columbus April 10, 11, and 12 to attend the thirty-ninth annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs. Headquarters will be the Deshler-Wallick hotel where sessions will be held. Miss Elizabeth Haymaker, Ravenna, state president, will preside.

The Monday club of this city is a member of the Federation.

Varied interests of public welfare, government, health and education are to be presented by the speakers. Justin Miller, of the United States Department of Justice, is to talk on Crime Prevention, and Miss Julia Jaffray, prominent welfare worker of New York City, will be one of the speakers. Dr. F. L. Rector, of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, is to map the educational campaign in cancer control which the federation is sponsoring in Ohio.

Among the speakers representing the General Federation of Women's Clubs will be Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, Chester, Pa., legislative chairman; Mrs. John Phillips, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Harvey Wiley, president of the District of Columbia federation.

Other speakers will be Miss Delia Ibarburu, Uruguay, Pan American fellowship student at Ohio State university; Phillip R. Adams, assistant director Columbus Art Museum; Samuel Wyer, Columbus; and Mrs. Robert G. Sarvis, Cincinnati, chairman of fine arts in the state federation.

A feature of the final day will be a debate on the Equal Rights Amendment presented by Mrs. Harvey Wiley, member of the National Women's party, and Mrs. Hiram S. Bronson, Jr., Columbus, president of the Franklin-co League of Women Voters.

Eight district luncheons are planned for April 11, and special breakfast and luncheon conferences will be devoted to club institutes, junior club work, publicity, book reviews and club problems.

MISS FOHL ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB AND GUESTS

Miss Marguerite Fohl, N. Pickaway-st., delightfully entertained the members of her card club and an extra table of guests at bridge, Wednesday evening, at the American hotel coffee shop.

Three tables of the planned diversion were in play with club favors for top score going to Miss Peggy Parks and Miss Virginia Marion. Guest prize was awarded Miss Irma Rader.

A delicious lunch served at an attractively appointed table brought the party to a close.

Little Theatre Group's Performance is Success

A fine production was witnessed by a large audience, Wednesday evening, in the Ashville high school auditorium, when the Little Theatre club of Ashville presented the play, "Adam and Eve," a comedy in three acts by Guy Bolton and George Middleton.

The acting of the performers reflects much credit on the director, Miss Nelle Oesterle, whose training was noted throughout the presentation.

The play was well-cast. William Duval and Jessie Malden in the leading roles, Adam Smith and Eva King, were especially good.

William Newton as Horace Pilgrim, the uncle; Stewart Logsdon as Lord Andrew Gordon, the would-be son-in-law, and Margaret Hedges as Corintha, the maid, portrayed their parts admirably.

Other characters were played by George Gardner as Dr. Jack Delamater, a neighbor; Lillian Kaiserman, Aunt Abby Rocker, the sister-in-law; Noel Duval, James King, the father; Elizabeth Pontius, Julie DeWitt, the elder daughter, and John Wright as Clinton DeWitt, all carrying off their parts in a creditable manner.

The story concerns a family noted for its extravagant spending. The father, James King, in a desperate moment appoints a "new" father, Adam Smith, who is also his business manager, to manage his home for three months while he goes on a business trip.

Much interest and merriment is provided through Adam's efforts in getting the family to work. All ends happily, with Adam and Eva, the younger daughter, to be married in the near future.

Music was furnished between acts by an orchestra under the supervision of Miss Eliza Plum.

Other members of the staff included Helen Bowers, Elizabeth Cromley, Elizabeth Hedges, Esther Mae Petty, Ernestine Pobst, Mary Alice Scothorn, Mary Ellen Wright, Junior Courtwright and Harry Margulis.

PATTERN 5265

If you want to add a dainty touch to your clothes, try doing it with this lovely neckwear. It's the sort of thing that's quickly crocheted for it's done in an open mesh. It drapes softly, too, and we all know how flattering that makes it. Do it in string or yarn. The cuffs, of course, could go with any one of the three pieces. You can do them in two colors, two shades of a color or all in one color, as you wish.

In pattern 5265 you will find complete instructions for making the set shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements, and color suggestions.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Arts Dept., 124 W. Main St., Circleville, O.

PATTERN 9327

You'll look both dainty and crisp in this new house frock with the envelope pockets—regardless of whether you're caring for your garden, taking the dog for its morning stroll, or giving baby a bath. It's the kind of frock that looks well under all circumstances. Pockets and that smart collar, which is trimmed so prettily with buttons, may be attractively edged with rickrack braid, which is much in vogue right now. The dress is smart as a whip in vivid challis with rickrack—or it's lovely in printed lawn with white collar and pocket facings, and soft-toned buttons. It's easy to make, too.

Pattern 9327 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3 yards 36 inch fabric and 3-8 yard contrasting.

First Mrs. Jimmy Walker Enjoys Job as a Hostess In Florida Night Club

Janet Allen Walker

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 21.—A very pleasant, short woman sits in a comfortable chair under a royal palm on the lawn of her beautifully appointed garage apartment at 40th street and Royal Palm avenue here, chatting affably yet cautiously with a reporter.

She is Janet Walker, one of the newest and most popular night club hostesses in the gay whirl of Miami night life.

Today—
Today her former husband in London says he is "broke," that his income of $105 a week from newspaper writing is insufficient to pay the bills which he charges were incurred by Mrs. Janet Walker and for which she is not legally responsible. The former Mrs. Walker, on the other hand, finds living on her salary, reported to be $100 a week, to be quite comfortable.

But Mrs. Janet Walker will not answer Jimmy's charges; nor will she comment on his present wife, the former Betty Compton.

"You see," she says, "I have never, and never will, do anything to jeopardize his business or political position. He still is Jim to me, not a man I want to hurt." It is obvious that she still loves New York's former playboy mayor.

Mrs. Walker's Duties
Mrs. Walker says she likes her work. Her duties consist solely of being present and chatting with guests each night at the expensive Palm Island club on Palm Island, Miami Beach, where Earl Carroll's Vanities cabaret. She was given the position by William V. Dwyer, majority stockholder in the race tracks at Tropical Park, Miami, and Coney Island, Cincinnati, and owner of the Palm Island club. Dwyer, who was indicted recently for operating a gambling house at the club, has Carroll as his stooge operator.

Mrs. Walker has lived in Miami Beach for two years, winter and summer. She says she likes the resort city and has no desire to return to New York, where she underwent many heartaches.

A Pleasant Sport
Mrs. Walker's garage apartment is in a beautiful section of the beach, just around the corner from the real estate office of an Al Smith. It is entirely closed in by a white stucco wall over which there are blooming red and lavender bougainvillea. Outside the driveway, the only entrance to the yard, stands Mrs. Walker's shiny new popular-priced car, which she drives herself. The wide iron gate barring the driveway bears the signs, "Beware of the dogs," and "Please close the gate."

The first sign is no bluff, for one's first greeting is a rush of a pair of Boston bull terriers who bark and sniff suspiciously. One word from their mistress and "China" and "Dingie" lose interest in the newcomer.

Mrs. Walker is just a bit over five feet tall. Her black wavy hair, combed straight back from her forehead, is tinged with gray. She is wearing sun-glasses but through them one can see kind, understanding gray-brown eyes. She has a small perfect mouth with pearly teeth. Her smile is disarming.

No Makeup
She uses no makeup and her skin is firm and clear. She is wearing a brown cotton sport dress with white buttons, and sport shoes.

The new night club hostess has a knack of making the visitor feel completely at ease. She is of the motherly type, inviting secrets.

Mrs. Walker has been approached with several offers from authors who want to write her life's story. But she refuses.

Is she unhappy with only her negro maid as a companion? "I'm perfectly contented her with my two children."

"Children?"

Musical Festival Participants Selected

The following high school pupils have been selected to represent Atlanta in the chorus at the County Musical Festival: Bass, Maynard Campbell and Ray Creighton; tenor, Lawrence Hunter and Dudley Steele; alto, Jean Overmeyer and Addie Ruth Skinner; soprano, Louise Skinner and Gayla Tarbill. The orchestra has not yet been selected but the participants will be picked soon.

Basketball Banquet

Last Saturday night, the boys and girls basketball teams were honored at a banquet sponsored by their mothers. Reverend Moore of Williamsport was the speaker of the evening. "Dutch" Leonard, who has refereed several of our games in the last two years was present and gave a short speech in which he praised the sportsmanship of the Atlanta teams. The parents of the players were invited and several of them were called on to make a few remarks.

The big event of the evening was the awarding of the varsity keys and letters. The girls who received keys were Addie Ruth Skinner, Betty Campbell, Jean Overmeyer, Gayla Tarbill, Fernie Bentley and Martha Donohoe. The boys who received keys were Thomas Farmer, Junior Stevenson, Maynard Campbell (manager) and Virgil Bentley. Letters were awarded to Robert Campbell, Glenn Skinner, Dudley Steele, Louise Skinner, Martha Wright, Ruth Bentley, Bertha Duvall (manager), Martha Conaway (cheer leader) and Samuel Athey (cheer leader).

Debate

The freshman English class had a debate Monday morning. The topic for debate was, "Resolved that James Fitz-James was a Greater Man than Rhoderick Dhu." The victory was awarded to the affirmative team composed of Howard Betts, Samuel Athey, and Dempsey Patrick. The aim of this debate was to accustom the pupils to speaking before the class.

The P. T. A. will have its monthly meeting at the school building on Thursday night, March 21.

Literary Program

The first program of the literary society will be presented at the high school auditorium on Monday, March 25, at 2:30 p. m. Everyone come and help make this undertaking a success.

DUST CLOUD SWEEPS MIDDLE WEST; MANY PERISH

CHICAGO, MANY CITIES STRUCK

Swirling Cloud Moves Eastward Toward Ohio; Pneumonia Blamed On Dust

CHICAGO, March 21—Swirling clouds of choking dust and fine silt, swept eastward from the western plains by a 25 mile an hour wind, penetrated the middle west today as far east as Chicago.

Having caused at least three deaths in Kansas towns and inestimable property damage throughout the agricultural areas of the plains states, the billowing clouds of red dust swept across Illinois during the night.

By midnight the dust storm had filtered through metropolitan Chicago, limiting visibility to a half mile and casting a queer halo about street and traffic lights. Dry throats and smarting eyes followed the course of the storm. Relief was predicted for Illinois today with a shift of the wind to the northwest.

1,000 Miles Affected
The government weather bureau here estimated that an area 1,000 miles in extent was being swept by the dust clouds.

In Kansas traffic was brought to a standstill by the storm. Schools were closed in some of the areas where the storm was so severe that stock fences were buried by the sifting dust.

Three Kansas children died of pneumonia attributed to inhalation of the dust. Two-month-old Shirley Frazier and her sister, Bernita, 13, died at Palo, Kan.

The storm area centered in eastern Wyoming, western Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, extending north to the Black Hills. Rolling eastward, the storm swept across Missouri, lower Iowa and across lower Illinois, toward Ohio.

Damage to the wheat crop through the storm area will prove particularly severe, agricultural authorities warned.

DARBY-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

The period for assembly programs was spent last Friday in listening to Walter Damrosch's music Appreciation Program. The radio was furnished by Miss De Muth.

The Seniors have ordered the play "The Blue Bag" written by J. C. McMullen. This will probably be given the latter part of April. Miss DeMuth has been selected to coach it. The Juniors are planning to give their play in the near future.

The Seniors won the basketball tournament by defeating the Juniors in the finals Friday night.

Mr. Frasch has planned a volleyball tournament for this week.

Nine new pupils entered school this week to enlarge the enrollment of the already over-crowded elementary rooms.

A supply of new chemicals has been placed in the laboratory for the benefit of the science classes.

The school paper "The Darby Canter" will be issued this week and will be the final number of the old staff. A new staff will be elected this month.

Miss Jones has ordered a number of new books for the library, a good many of which are replacements for worn-out books. The Board's yearly appropriation of $65.00 for library purposes takes care of the books and magazines purchased each year.

JACKSON-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

This week ends the seventh month of our school year. The teachers and pupils are alike finding the work progressing nicely and all regular class room work will be covered by early May. Several classes are finding the work heavy, due to rather slow progress earlier in the year. Attendance in the high school has improved especially during the past two weeks. Grade attendance is also better but does not compare with the high school. There are a few cases of childhood diseases but no epidemics as yet.

"MIN SETS THE STAGE"

The Junior Play, "Min Sets the Stage" will be given this Thursday night, March 21. This one act comedy will be preceded by a musical program of the Good Will Quartette of which Elzie Radcliffe (6th grade teacher) and his son are members. The cast follows:

"Ma" Enright, Augusta Peters.
"Granny" Enright, Ruth Seymour.

Grace Enright, A younger daughter, Virginia Walters.

Minerva Enright, An older daughter, Janie Winks.

Mrs. Snook, A neighbor, Ruth Eccard.

Flossie Candee, The village gossip, Prundis Conley.

Augustons Chapman, An art instructor, John Speakman.

General admission will be 15c.

We are glad to welcome Saralie Grabill into our sophomore class and Faith Grabill to the third grade. They have come to us from Darby-twp schools.

The basketball season has closed with the Junior class champions of the boys and the Sophomores class champions among the girls. As to the "has-beens," the players north of Darby creek made the most baskets (or touchdowns) but neither side is sure of their exact status. An alumni game closed the final night of basketball for 1934-1935 season.

NAZIS TO HOLD GERMAN POWER 2 MORE YEARS

Report Sent to Roosevelt Says Germany to Fail Financially, Economically

PARIS, March 21—Germany faces financial and economic collapse, but the Nazi government will hold its power for several years. This is the conclusion reached from a special investigation of the German situation by the American embassy staff in Berlin and forwarded to President Roosevelt, says the usually reliable financial daily, "Agence Economique Et Financiere," today.

Summed up in chapter headings, the substance of the 20-page report, according to the newspaper, follows:

- 1—No Pacific evolution is possible in Germany.
- 2—The Nazi government is destined to last several years.
- 3—The financial ruin of Germany is in sight.
- 4—Economic breakdown will follow.
- 5—Germany's raw materials will become more and more scarce after April.
- 6—Confiscation of major industries is to be feared.
- 7—Must American firm establishments in Germany close?
- 8—Germany's present resources are too small for the present German population.
- 9—War in central Europe is possible.

TOO MUCH FOR HEART

VIENNA—A 75-year-old policeman, Ferdinand Mann, dropped dead the very moment when the Golden Medal of Honour was pinned on his breast by a representative of the government on the 50th anniversary of his joining the police.

Presidents Owned Slaves

Ten Presidents owned slaves: Washington, Monroe, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Johnson and Grant. Lincoln never owned slaves.

WHAT... COUNCIL... DID

Finances Still Low

The city's finances remain in difficult circumstances, Ben Gordon, chairman of the council's finance committee reports.

The general fund has only $639.98 in its treasury. Other funds contain the following amounts: library, $1,832.02; auto street repair $4,688.59, and gasoline tax fund, $2,065.09.

The Berger hospital fund shows no balance.

To Rebuild Sidewalk

Service Director William Justus has been instructed by council to inform owners of the service station property at Scioto and Main-sts to rebuild the sidewalk at the corner to provide protection for pedestrians.

The curb is to be replaced and a catch-basin installed. One block of the walk adjoining the Hosler property sidewalk is also to be rectified.

New Job Set Up

An ordinance setting up the technician's duties at Berger hospital as a separate department within the institution was approved by council. The technician is to receive $75 monthly and be given the privilege of living at the hospital. Books are to be kept separate from the hospital books and an inventory of all equipment in the laboratory and X-ray departments taken each year.

The move does not mean a new employee will be added at the hospital, however, but it does mean council expects careful attention paid to this department by one person who shall be responsible to the safety director. The technician's bond shall be $500.

Would Exempt Airport

A resolution was approved by council to apply to have land used by the airport, now under construction, be made tax free. This land was leased by the city from S. C. Elsea and subleased to the local chapter of the National Aeronautical association.

Hopkins Visits F. D. R.

Harry L. Hopkins

After presenting Ohio's relief controversy to the president, Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins is pictured leaving the White House. Grand jury investigation at Columbus was ordered following Hopkins' charges that members of Gov. Martin L. Davey's campaign committee solicited funds from firms selling relief supplies. Governor Davey, appearing before the state general assembly, attacked the New Deal and called Hopkins "a character assassin", after which the legislative body authorized investigation of the governor's charges of waste and inefficiency in Ohio relief administration but refused to authorize the state attorney general, a Republican, to investigate Hopkins' charges of corruption by Davey's campaign committee.

M'CRADY TO FILE CHECK CHARGES

Police Chief William McCrady expected today to file charges of uttering and publishing a forged check against Bronson H. Mounts, 23, of Omega, O., who tried to pass checks for $150 and $11.80 on the Williamsport bank and several other places of business, Tuesday.

Mounts was arrested in the southend. He denied the charge although several persons identified him. Later he admitted he burned the checks while in the south end.

He had signed Harry Barthelmas' name to the checks, police charge.

SIGNALS FROM VENUS

COLORADO SPRINGS — A strange light that shone from the tip of Pike's Peak nightly and caused wild speculation on the part of Colorado Springs residents came from the planet Venus, Dr. Guy H. Albright, professor of astronomy at Colorado college, explained. It was supposed at first that a motorist who had driven to the top of the 14,000-foot peak and had become marooned there by recent snows, was signalling with his car lights. Venus, setting behind the mountain, was in a direct line with Colorado Springs and the mountain top.

Girl to Woman

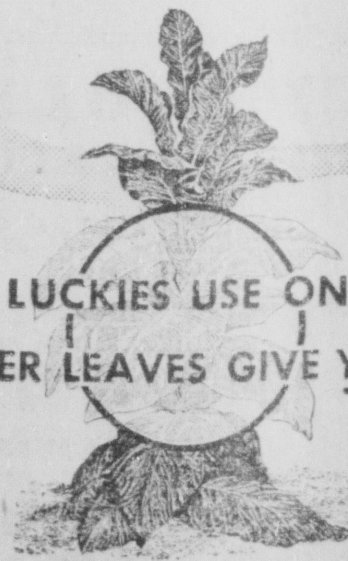

NO need for girls to suffer every month from period pains, headache or sideache. In girlhood Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a very beneficial tonic. This is what Miss Hazel Moore of 114½ W. 4th St., Michigan City, Ind., said: "When developing into womanhood, I became thin and pale. Monthly pains and cramps were so severe I would be in bed a week or more—could hardly hold up my head. I had hardly finished the second bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when I gained in weight and all my suffering had disappeared. I have never been troubled in that way since." STATE COURT MEET BEGINS IN COLISEUM

First Game Finds New Matamoras - Oxford Meeting; Waterloo Is Attraction

COLUMBUS, March 21—Ohio's annual high school basketball Mardi Gras began today. At one o'clock sharp, in the dank, cavernous space of the coliseum at the state fairgrounds and to the accompaniment of lusty excited cheers from the throats of a crowd of high school youngsters, New Matamoras and Oxford Stewart pitted into each other and launched the race for the 1935 basketball titles. An hour later, Maumee and Henrietta were to clash and so on the battles will rage until Saturday night when there will emerge two champions—one a champion of Class "A" and the other champion of Class "B."

Teams and their crowds of supporters began pouring into the city late yesterday afternoon and their numbers were to be swollen by additional thousands today. The big coliseum, with its extra bleacher seats, holds 6,500 persons and standing room signs are expected to be hung out on all three days. No one seemed to know why this interest in this year's event was so great but the wave of excitement suddenly welled up and promises to surpass anything in history of the high school event.

There were contributing factors, including general improvement in business and a basketball revival, the latter evidence by increased gate receipts at all high school and college court games this year. Unquestionably, too, the presence of the amazing Waterloo team added greatly to the interest of fandom.

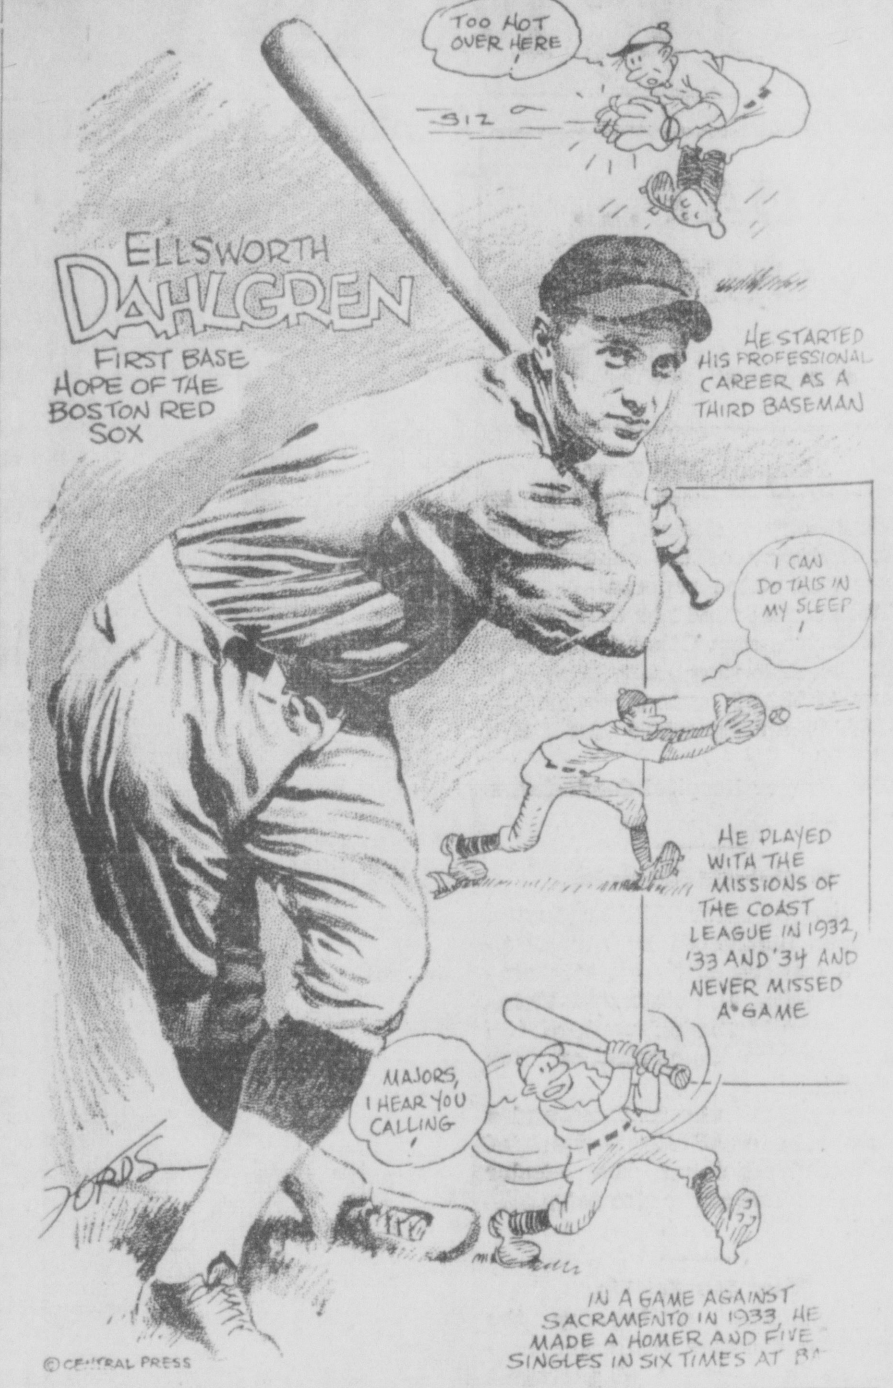

After the Matamoras-Oxford and Maumee-Henrietta games formally launch the tournament, two Class A games will be run off. The first one will be between Dayton Stivers and Coshocton. Stivers eliminated Dayton Roosevelt, 1934 champions, in the district play. Coshocton eliminated Dover.

The second Class A tilt, at 4 p. m., will give tournament followers their first insight to the playing of Greenfield McClain, which will meet Lima Central. McClain was one of the two Class A quintets that defeated Waterloo in regular season games and is regarded as the "hottest" of the turnery.

Between the afternoon and evening sessions, an exhibition game between Columbus North and Marysville will be run off under direction of Hernab Sawyer, former Heidelberg coach, in which there will be no tip-off and baskets will count one, two and three points, according to the point from which they are scored on the floor. It is designed to eliminated the "big man menace" in basketball.

While the teams play, there will probably be fewer high school bands in the stands than in previous years. Because of the expected attendance, they are not being admitted free this year. But are bands needed when there is a surging mass of 6,500 people in the stands hanging on every play.

McDonald Seen Buckeye Star

COLUMBUS, March 21—A new gridiron star appeared on the Ohio State university horizon today in the person of Jim McDonald, formerly of Springfield high, as Coach Francis Schmidt formally announced that outdoors spring practice would start at the Big Ten school Tuesday.

BAMBINO STEALS DIZZY'S THUNDER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21—Jerome H. "Dizzy" Dean didn't know whether to be happy or not today.

"Dizzy," ace pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, held a box-score decision over Babe Ruth, of the Braves, but the plaudits of the crowd of 6,500 fans who watched the Cards defeat the Tribe 5 to 4 yesterday were all for the Babe. And "Dizzy" claims to be the best drawing card in the National league.

The 40-year-old former New York Yankees slugger went hitless before Dean for five innings and before Wild Bill Hallahan. One of Dean's offerings, however, he sent poling out to deep right center field, and Gene Moore, Cards center fielder, robbed him of what was an almost certain hit by making a brilliant catch on the fringe of an overflow crowd.

Dizzy and the Babe walked together to the clubhouse when they retired from the game.

JUNIORS WIN CLASS MEET

Defeat Seniors, 14-10, With Friley Providing Fireworks For Winners

The junior class won the high school intramural cage championship Wednesday evening defeating the seniors, 14-10, in an interesting game. The underclassmen held a four point lead, 9-5, at the half and protected it through the remainder of the game.

Bill Friley, left handed guard, spelled victory for the juniors by caging three field goals and three from the charity circle for nine of his team's 14 points.

About This And That BY THE SECOND GUESSER

NEW HOLLAND TO BANQUET

New Holland takes its basketball seriously, but a defeat doesn't dampen the ardor of its fans to such an extent that the team is forgotten — A banquet a repetition of last year's successful event, is being planned Tuesday evening, April 2 — Mrs. Mabel Louis and Mrs. Charles Landman are in charge of arrangements for a pot-luck supper — Kroger Babb, tourney official, will be present and a good speaker will also be on hand — Not only will the boys be feted but the girls will also come in for some honor...

Spare us—Nick Cullop, so gay his stooge and best friend Bob Hooey, may play first base for the Red Birds at the opening of the season — Nick looks on first base like an elephant on a peanut — It seems to him that there are plenty of good ball players available without transplanting a lumberjacker to the infield — How about Harley Boss, who is now with New Orleans?

MOORE AND O'DEA SHINE

Two youths who performed for the Columbus Red Birds last year seem in the way to stardom if you believe the Sporting News, baseball publication — They are Terry Moore, aspirant to the center field post for the Cardinals, and Kenneth O'Dea, catching candidate with the Chicago Cubs — Moore is putting up a real fight for the middle pasture berth while O'Dea is almost certain to be second string receiver to Gabby Hartnett...

CARDS-TIGERS FAVORED

A consensus of sports writers picks the Cardinals and Tigers to repeat as champions of their respective leagues — The number of points gained by the teams in the poll was St. Louis, 1459; New York, 1322; Chicago, 1115 in the National loop — Going over to the American it is found much closer; Detroit, 1327; Cleveland, 1302; New York, 1178; Boston, 1128 — Cleveland received 81 votes for first place against 59 for Detroit but the Tigers made up the point schedule on second and third choices...

PHILLIES CLOUT

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 21—The strenuous batting drills Manager Jimmy Wilson has compelled his Phillies to undergo have borne fruit. Wilson was all smiles today, his happiness arising from the display of hitting power put on by his charges in clouting out 13 safeties to subdue Detroit, 9-8.

ATHLETICS BREAK CAMP

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 21—Following a brief scrub game between the regulars and the rookies, Connie Mack's Athletics begin packing today. Tomorrow the A's break camp and depart for the north and a series of exhibition contests. The Philadelphiaans squeezed out a 4 to 3 victory over the House of David here yesterday.

MEASURING WINTER

ANDOVER, Mass.—Striking evidence of how cold this winter has been in New England was uncovered by workmen laying pipes for a water main. In their digging operations they found frost had penetrated the ground 44 inches.

Secret Plums

Though Jimmy Moffett's Housing Administration is equipped for high-powered publicity, his latest move is being kept carefully out of the headlines.

It is a move to put 200 men into the field to work with Chamber of Commerce canvassers in a door-to-door sales campaign for home renovizing.

Reason for the hush-hush is that FHA wants no deluge of job seekers for the new posts. Their files already contain enough applications to fill the 200 jobs fifty times over.

Instead, they want to parcel the new jobs out among Senators as political plums. Most patronage having been exhausted, 200 plums at $2600 will be welcome on Capitol Hill.

Press Relations

Richard Whitney, facing rebellion in the ranks of the New York Stock Exchange, is considering withdrawing as a candidate for re-election.

The chief complaint that Wall Street critics are making against Whitney is of an involved nature. It is contended that he has failed to build up "good press relations" for the Exchange.

What they really mean is that the brokerage business is dull and they believe it is due to the lack of the right kind of publicity.

The public, brokers agree, could be brought back into the market if the right kind of ballyhoo was conducted.

Whitney, pompous and ponderous, they demand be replaced by a breezier figure. Their candidate is Charles Gay, head of the brokerage firm of Whitehouse & Co., and a present member of the board of governors of the Exchange.

Thirty-eight Bankers Coming to Trial In Half-billion Dollar Detroit Smash

Government Begins Momentous Cases on March 26

By DANIEL L. WELLS
Central Press Correspondent
DETROIT, March 21—The trials of 38 bankers on charges of fraud and embezzlement, for which more than 800,000 depositors in Detroit's two largest banks have been waiting two years, is scheduled to begin in federal court here March 26.

The defendants, former officers and directors of the First National Bank of Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, were indicted last summer by a federal grand jury. The true bills were the outgrowth and result of a year's study and investigation by agents of the department of justice. They were searching for causes of the $500,000,000 failure of the two banks during the Michigan bank holiday, in February 1933.

The Michigan bank collapse led to runs on other banks throughout the nation, and finally forced President Roosevelt to declare the national bank moratorium on March 6, 1933.

Keenan in Charge
Assistant U. S. Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan, chief prosecutor of the criminal division of the department of justice, will prosecute the cases, it has been announced. Guy K. Bard, special assistant attorney general, who submitted the evidence to the grand jury for their indictments, will assist him.

Also involved in the trials are officers of the two holding companies which controlled the two banks. They are the Detroit Bankers company and the Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc. Bard has announced that the first men to be tried, of the 38 who have been indicted, will be three former officials of the defunct Detroit Bankers Co., and its subject bank.

They are John Ballantyne, 70-year-old veteran banker, who was once president of the holding company; Herbert L. Chittenden, former chairman of the executive committee of the First National Bank-Detroit, and John H. Hart,

Draws New NRA Bill

Blackwell Smith
The NRA reorganization bill which President Roosevelt will urge congress to pass has been drawn up by Blackwell Smith, attorney, "inside man" at NRA headquarters. The only important change from the existing NRA set-up would make explicit the president's right to impose codes.

former executive vice president of the same bank.

Pecora Investigated Them

The affairs of the banks, holding companies, and the bank officials came under the scrutiny of the U. S. senate's committee on banking and currency during a two-month investigation more than a year ago. Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the committee, conducted the investigation.

Results of the Detroit investigation were cited in the committee's report, which pointed to "group" or holding company banking as subject to the greatest possible dangers in times of stress. The two holding companies in Detroit owned banks throughout the state, investment units, and many corporations, the investments in which were not disclosed to stockholders or depositors, it has been shown.

Impartial Judge Selected

"All these indictments," the department of justice said in a public statement, "were the results of prolonged investigation by our agents. The necessary preliminaries bearing on the assignment of a judge not disqualified to hear the issues involved have now been disposed of."

"The government is prepared to present its evidence in court immediately, and believes that the interest of justice requires that these cases proceed to trial without further delay."

The indictments were returned in two sets of true bills, the first indicting 13 officers of the banks, the second indicting directors and officers of the holding companies. Federal Judge Ernest A. O'Brien, of the eastern district of Michigan, will hear the cases.

A BIG JOB

BERLIN.—Firemen in Berlin have other tasks besides fighting fires. An elephant named Toni slipped on the asphalt of one of Berlin's busiest thoroughfares and sat down, thus blocking street traffic. All Toni's efforts to get up to his feet proved unsuccessful. A fire brigade came to the rescue, with the aid of a crane succeeded in hoisting "Toni" to an upright position.

DOCTORS DEATH

LONDON.—With cheery words and a prediction of early recovery, Dr. Ernest Augustus Farr, widely known as "lover practitioner" and this town's mayor, of the town, took leave of a patient. As Dr. Farr reached the front steps of the patient's house, he collapsed and died.

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestines, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 2 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Questions and Answers

What is sorbet? Is it anything like sherbet?

Both sherbet and sorbet are made of sweetened fruit juices, fruit pulp and the addition of milk or cream. The difference is in the consistency. A sorbet (or frappe) is frozen to a mush; a sherbet is frozen until firm.

I am planning a bridge party to be given in the Russian manner. Would you suggest appropriate refreshments that would be inexpensive?

Caviar if served to a very large group is rather expensive. You may serve sardines instead of caviar, or you might serve smoked herring, anchovy paste, or smoked salmon. If the refreshments are to be served in the afternoon, these foods may be used in small sandwiches with tea served either with jam or lemon and sugar. If you are serving a buffet supper the same foods may be used as hors d'oeuvre, accompanying them with cold cuts of either ham or prepared meats, a hot dish, jams, candy and cookies.

My family is very fond of doughnuts. Will you please tell me why there are objections to serving them?

The common prejudice against doughnuts may have developed because they are so often eaten in addition to an adequate meal. Doughnuts or any other food consumed in excess have a way of causing digestive disturbances. One of the scientific journals has made a report of an experiment carried on to determine the effect of doughnut eating upon digestion. The results indicate that the quality of the ingredients and the care used in cooking are important in the ease of utilization. For a normal adult the consumption of doughnuts does not affect the digestibility of the nutrients of the diet, or the retention of calcium or phosphorus. It should be remembered, however, that when doughnuts are used, they should replace an equivalent quantity of food in the regular meal.

My supply of silver is somewhat limited but I like to serve correctly. May I use a dessert fork with a salad?

The small fork, sometimes called the "dessert fork," may be used for practically anything except the meat course, for which the large fork is used. Do not hesitate to use your small fork in serving the salad nor need you feel that your silver is limited in doing so.

Do you have a recipe for bran waffles? Are they made with a foundation recipe?

Bran waffles are a great delicacy. They may be served as a dessert topped with fruit, or as regular waffles with bacon and sausage.

Bran Waffles

- 1 1/2 C. flour
- 4 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- 2 eggs (whites and yolks separated)
- 1 C. sweet milk
- 1/2 C. melted shortening
- 3/4 C. All-bran

Sift the dry ingredients. Beat egg yolks and combine with milk. Add to the dry ingredients and mix well. Add melted shortening and the All-bran. Add the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a hot waffle iron until the mixture ceases to steam. Makes 6 waffles.

SENATE FAVORS BILLS TO ALTER COUNTY GOVERNMENT

COMMITTEE APPROVES PLAN TO COMBINE SEVERAL JOBS

COLUMBUS, O., March 21.—Ohio's county government commission, dedicated to the task of remodeling this state's century-old system of county government, shifted into high gear today for the first test on a score of bills to combine the functions of various sub-divisions before the legislature.

Members of the commission and their sponsors of the so-called remedial legislation centered their fight in the state senate, where two of the commission's bills were recommended for passage by the committee on political sub-divisions today.

Would Combine Jobs

These bills included: a measure by Sen. Maurice W. Lipscher, (D) of Youngstown, to permit counties, by a majority vote, to combine the offices of county auditor and treasurer and county clerk of courts and recorder; and another bill by Sen. Lipscher to transfer the duties of preparing semi-annual tax bills from county treasurers to county auditors.

At the same time they concentrated efforts on a special sub-committee in the house, to which was referred the "big bill" or major proposal of the commission, a measure by Rep. Kenneth Petri (D) of Galion, to enable counties to adopt one of three alternative forms of centralized county government.

Pointing to an estimated annual saving of $500,000 if every county in Ohio takes advantage of the proposal to combine offices of treasurers and auditors. Charles P. Taft II, of Cincinnati, chairman of the county government commission appointed by Gov. White in December, 1933, today claimed the measure would be the first step to eliminate "unnecessary expense in county government operation." He estimated combining offices of clerks of courts and recorders, also permitted under provisions of the Lipscher bill, would result in a saving of nearly $200,000 a year if all 88 counties took advantage of the measure.

A duplicate of the Petri measure, introduced in the senate by Sen. Willard Campbell (R) of Cambridge, has been given a preliminary hearing and action by the political sub-divisions committee is expected early next week. Sen. James Metzgerbaum (D) of Cleveland, chairman of the committee, indicated today.

Combine Duties

These measures, combining most of the features of the other county government since the organization of the state.

All county functions would be consolidated under five administrative departments, subject to the supervision of the county commissioners and a county manager.

The three alternative forms of organization provided included: a county manager plan, similar to city manager forms of government; a plan under which the county executive would be elected by voters of the county, subject by policy supervision of the commissioners; and a system which would authorize county commissioners to select a county executive, directly responsible to them.

All three, however, would set up the following five departments, under the administrative supervision of a county executive:

A department of public works, including county surveyor's department, supervision of county buildings and duties of sanitary engineers;

A department of welfare, combining supervision of county institutions and administration of all relief except soldiers relief and mothers' pensions;

Department of finance, combining the functions of county auditors and county treasurers;

Record division combining duties of clerks of courts and recorders; and

A law enforcement department, centralizing supervision over police, sheriff's staff and duties of the county prosecutor and coroner.

Other measures, still in committee, which would accomplish part of the charges incorporated in the Petri and Campbell measures, comprise the commission's second line of attack in the event, the all-inclusive proposal is defeated.

MOTHER OF FIVE SHOT TO DEATH

REYNOLDSBURG, Mar. 21.—Leaving five children motherless, Mrs. Laura Mae Stewart, 38, was shot and fatally wounded in her home here today and shortly afterward Donald Johnson, 53, shot himself as authorities sought to take him into custody as the woman's suspected slayer.

Police blamed a lover's quarrel for the tragedy.

REYNOLDSBURG, March 21.—Mrs. Laura Mae Stewart, 38-year-old mother of five children, was shot and fatally wounded in her home here today as a climax to what police said was a quarrel with a jealous, former lover.

Mrs. Stewart died from bullet wounds in the chest and abdomen a few minutes after she was shot down. Before she lost consciousness, she mumbled "He got me."

Franklin-co. sheriff's deputies immediately started a hunt for Donald Johnson, 52, of Rose Hill, for questioning. He had been keeping company with the slain woman for two years. Jean Stewart, a 16-year-old daughter of the victim declared.

The girl said her mother and Johnson had often quarreled recently after Mrs. Stewart started to go out with another man. The second man and her mother kept an engagement last night.

ing the functions of county auditors and county treasurers;

Record division combining duties of clerks of courts and recorders; and

A law enforcement department, centralizing supervision over police, sheriff's staff and duties of the county prosecutor and coroner.

Councilman Dan Ryan and President John Goeller expressed their belief that the safety work is beneficial when properly handled and Mr. Goeller advised Mr. Shaner that school authorities should be interviewed and the work placed in the hands of proper youths.

GRAND JURORS HEAR DETAILS IN RELIEF WAR

sworn that he collected $6,500 for the campaign committee from persons doing business with the relief commission. Jones, like McNamara has been suspended by C. C. Stillman, FERA administrator for Ohio, pending the outcome of the grand jury investigation.

Jones was the "collector" who, according to his affidavit made in Washington on March 16, was assured a "front seat at the inaugural" by Jack McCombe, Ravenna, chairman of the Davey inaugural committee, when he turned over a $2,250 installment to McCombe in a downtown hotel here on Dec. 20.

McCombe and Jack North, Cleveland coal dealer and attache at Democratic headquarters, presented themselves at the grand jury room, both denying to reporters that there has been anything irregular about the manner in which they went about wiping out campaign and inaugural deficits.

Aller There, Too

The group was joined outside the grand jury room by Kenneth P. Aller, one of the "contributors." He, too, has signed an affidavit, alleging that Jones told him unless funds were raised his job would be insecure and that McNamara had been promised the job of relief director or assistant director.

Aller's affidavit, made public in Toledo by Prosecutor Frazier Reams, told of turning over to Jones a total of $750.

Democratic State Committee Chairman Poulson did not join the array of witnesses waiting outside the grand jury room for their names to be called. He remained at Democratic headquarters, advising Prosecutor Hoskins to telephone when they were ready to question him.

Hoskins after a delay finally closeted himself with the grand jury and called the first witness. He was Dan Duffy, the governor's secretary who was appearing entirely on his own volition and after advised by the prosecutor that the affidavits did not mention him.

Duffy asked to be heard because some of the persons mentioned in the affidavits had used the secretary's name in statements to the newspapers.

Duffy spent 20 minutes with the grand jury. Upon leaving, he declined to make a statement, but said there might be an announcement later from Democratic headquarters.

Judge George Nye, Pike county Democratic leader, who had been subpoenaed, was excused from testifying after McNamara, who referred to him in a sworn affidavit, admitted he was mistaken and that Judge Nye was not present in a hotel room when McNamara handed McCombe an envelope containing $5,150 in contributions.

Book Examined

While the grand jury was busy

with witnesses county detectives were reported to be checking names in a little grey book seized by the prosecutor at Democratic headquarters. It was reputed to contain the names and amounts received from campaign contributors.

Prosecutor Hoskins ordered a recess of the grand jury to permit him to confer privately with McCombe, chairman of the Davey inaugural committee. After the two had been closeted in the prosecutor's office for some time, a court stenographer was called in.

JUDGMENT BEFORE TRIAL

An Answer to President Roosevelt's Statement on the Public Utility Bill

In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the President sends a message to Congress which seeks to prejudice the case.

The issues are simple: Shall all public utility holding companies be ruthlessly destroyed without trial or hearing? Shall innocent investors everywhere throughout the country have their investments destroyed to further an untried and Utopian scheme of economic reform? Shall we go many steps beyond fair and adequate governmental regulation and put the utility industry of the country completely in the hands of a new bureaucracy at Washington? Shall utility operating companies and the service required by consumers throughout the country be crippled and demoralized by virtually taking the industry out of the hands of local regulation and of the managers who have been installed by and who are responsible to the investing public, which owns the properties?

The holding company has developed in the public utility field for the same reasons that it developed in other industries, and presumably for the same reasons which made it useful to the Government in establishing the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The President has stated that "if we could remake our financial history in the light of experience, certainly we would have none of this holding company business."

That statement apparently eliminates from any further consideration the great achievements made possible by the holding company in every major American industry. Most of the basic products which the American public buys come from holding companies. The corporate names best known to the public and most representative of high standards are those of holding companies. The destruction of the holding company, as provided in the proposed bill, is no longer a concern for the public utilities alone, but for all industry.

Moreover, the bill goes further than destruction of the holding company. It is not merely a holding company bill; it is also a bill directed against the operating companies, which so completely limits their powers as to make Federal agencies virtually the managers of the industry.

The public utilities have opposed this bill because they believe it to be unsound and harmful to both investor and consumer, and contrary to the public interest.

The right to express opinion, even when it is opposed to an administration measure, has not yet been abrogated. The utilities have endeavored honestly to inform investors and the general public as to the disastrous effects of this legislation. According to newspaper reports and the statements of Congressmen, thousands of individuals have written in protest against the bill. We shall continue to urge them to so express their opinions frankly and fully.

The President states that he is as "unimpressed" by these protests as he was by the similar effort against the Securities Exchange Bill last Spring, and that "the Securities Exchange Act is now generally accepted as a constructive measure." We would respectfully point out that what made that Act workable was the opposition that developed against the original bill which forced the adoption of drastic changes in the legislation as finally enacted.

That is all that we are seeking to do in our presentation of the facts before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. We do not object to a fair and constructive bill. But we will not be deterred from our purpose in submitting to the Congressional committees the true facts of the situation, convinced in the belief that in due time the justice of our position will prevail.

FRESH AIR HELPS MAKE DIONNE 'QUINTS' NORMAL TOTS

PLACED OUTSIDE THREE HOURS EACH DAY; ARE NORMAL BABES

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN,
(Copyright 1935 by International News Service.)

CALLANDER, Ont., March 21.—Those Dionne quintuplets are "normal babies." They are "bright children" who haven't had a cold since they were born last May 28th—almost ten months ago.

I am told this by the one person who should know—Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, the famous country doctor who has been treating and caring for them since birth.

From another authoritative source—Chief Nurse Louise De Kiriline—I learn that the babies "love apple sauce and eggs"; that they have no likes or dislikes and that they "take everything easily."

Easiest to Wean

"They are the easiest babies weaned that I ever saw," said Mrs. De Kiriline, when interviewed at the "Dafeo hospital for the quintuplets"—a cheery, cozy little nursery built for the babies three miles into the country from the town of Callander. The hospital is located only 100 yards from the Dionne homestead where the babies were born and where the parents of the quintuplets, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, live.

It's great to see the way Dr. Dafeo looks after the "quints." He visits them every day, plays with them and acts toward them like a loving father. He has had his worries about them. But now that they are growing stronger and lovelier day by day he is happy over their condition. They're becoming "big girls" now and are cutting teeth.

The day I visited the hospital with Dr. Dafeo, Yvonne weighed fifteen pounds and six ounces and was the heaviest of the five babies. Marie, then weighing thirteen pounds and seven ounces, was the lightest. In between in weights were Annette, Cecile and Emilie, each varying a few ounces but all of them in excellent condition.

Dr. Dafeo attributed their fine condition to the care they have had, he said:

"They have had fresh air three hours a day all winter. Every morning since they were taken into the nursery last September they have been put out on the front porch in their buggies for three hours and that's why they look so rosy-cheeked and healthy."

Open Single Hour

Six persons can be found at the "hospital" every day. They are Dr. Dafeo, the three nurses—Mrs. De Kiriline, Yvonne Lereaux and "Pat" Mullin—the housekeeper, Laurence Clusieux and an orderly named Telsphore Demers. The hospital is open to the public for one hour a day—between 2 and 3 p. m. visitors are allowed to see the babies through glass windows.

"Can you tell the babies apart?" I asked Mrs. De Kiriline as I watched Dr. Dafeo chucking the babies under the chin and jollyng first one of them and then another.

"Oh yes," she exclaimed, "Yvonne and Annette act much alike. They have certain little mannerisms, such as the way they wrinkle their noses or make sounds or purse their lips. Cecile has a rounder face than the others and is a little blonder. Emilie has a more pointed face. She has the smallest face and she is very lively. Marie you can't miss—her face is quite different. She is the one with the madonna face and her manner is more restrained than the others. 5 o'clock each morning. It is then they are all quite vivacious. Never they get their first feeding. Every second day they receive sun lamp

Mrs. De Kiriline is a veteran nurse. Their second daily feeding—Red Cross nurse, having seen serving takes place at 9 a. m. from vice with both the Russian and 9:30 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. they Swedish Red cross. She came to sit in their buggies in the sun-Canada in 1927 and at the time the light on the front porch. At 12:30 p. m. quintuplets were born she was in m. they are fed again. Visitors charge of the little Red Cross out-comes to see them between 2 and 3 p. m. about this time they are

Dr. Dafeo is quite proud of the given orange juice. At 4:30 p. m. babies and also of the little hospital—they are given their baths. At 5 p. m. where they are living. It is p. m. they are fed again. At 5:30 modern to the nth degree. The hos-p. m. they are put to bed. At 10 p. m. was built by the Ontario gov-p. m. the night nurse goes to their emment and also by contributions beds and sees if they want some- from various persons interested in thing to eat. During the night they are given water and other atten- tion.

Praises Government

Dr. Dafeo praised the Ontario government for the manner in which they came to the aid of the babies and the Dionne family. He recalled how Red Cross nurses were brought in; how the government obtained supplies; constructed the road leading from Callander to the hospital, a distance of three miles and how they provided necessities from the time the babies were born until the first of the year. He lauded the Ontario government sound asleep in a telephone booth, his legs pressed against the kind words to say for the Ameri- door in such a manner that it can people whom, he said, "did could not be opened. Loud knocking on the door by police failed to rouse Devaney. Officers finally managed to open the door enough to seize him by the coat collar and straighten him up sufficiently to open the door.

"Good Tea"
MAKES HARD TASKS SEEM LIGHTER"

"When your work tires you and you seem 'about to drop', stop whatever you're doing and make yourself a cup of tea. It will bring you instant refreshment. Fresh energy and fitness. To get good tea, select India's good Black tea. To be sure of getting it, look for the trademark (left) on packages of tea you buy."

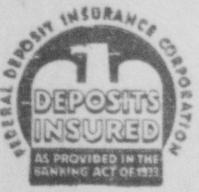

"There's more to it!"

THE BORROWER'S Best Credential

It used to be a common practice by many borrowers to renew their loans over and over again. They paid the interest but, as they were "good for it," did not seem to think it was necessary to be in a hurry to pay the principal.

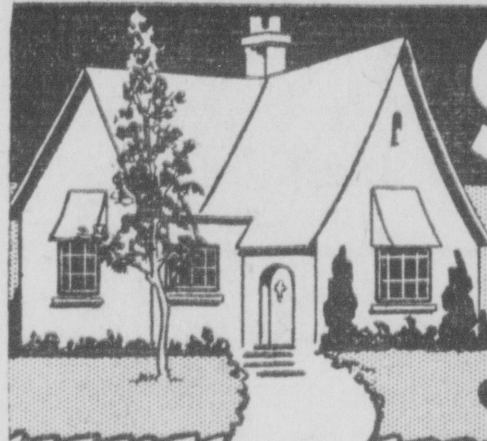

Today this practice is recognized as unsound and contrary to safe banking principles. Banks are no longer permitted to extend loans indefinitely.

A "clean slate"—all old obligations wiped off—is a borrower's best credential when seeking further credit. The most welcome borrower today is the man who not only can pay, but does pay his loans at regular intervals.

WELCOME, KIWANISANS

THE CIRCLEVILLE KIWANIS CLUB will be host tonight to some 200 fellow members from various towns in this section of the state at a district meeting. Visiting members from our neighboring cities of Chillicothe, Portsmouth, New Lexington, Logan, Lancaster, Columbus, Delaware, Newark and Marysville will be given a cordial welcome, not only by Circleville Kiwanians, but by every resident of the city.

Kiwanis clubs and kindred organizations are extending good cheer and fellowship to the four corners of the civilized world, discussing problems of international interest, bringing neighborhoods closer together, and promoting good citizenship throughout the land. Welcome to Circleville!

HITLER ARMS THE REICH

"THERE is no longer any purpose," Chancellor Hitler says, "in keeping the German people in ignorance of what the government is doing." This is an interesting statement in view of the subject under discussion — the development of the Reich's military establishment.

Germany's neighbors, particularly France, have charged that Hitler has been building for war, that the restrictions of the Versailles Treaty have been ignored, that a vast army has been in process of formation, that aerial development has progressed, that the scientific resources of the nation have been directed toward military preparation.

After many protests of innocence of these charges, peaceful professions and idealistic persiflage, Chancellor Hitler now comes into the open. His position is bold but not fundamentally surprising. It is in strict accord with many of the principles and beliefs expressed during the earlier stages of his public career when he declared that the right of the German people today to advance their interests through the medium of war was not essentially different from the right exercised by their forefathers in building the empire. In the past he has said that Germany must look to the extension of her boundaries and that her gaze naturally turned to the east.

Now, less than sixteen years after Germany signed the Treaty of Versailles in the Hall of Mirrors, a document which symbolized a disarmed, defeated and dismembered Germany, Chancellor Hitler, following a notable precedent, has decided that that treaty was just another scrap of paper and has treated it accordingly.

This news is probably the most ominous that has come from Europe since the close of the war. It means that Germany is again defying her old enemies, that she is again belligerent, animated by the old crazy martial spirit. Germany will put a half million men under arms for the purpose of establishing her salvation and her vindication. In doing so she will take the road that leads to war.

France at last has taken official cognizance of the American depression. Hotel rates are down 25 per cent.

A fox at Groton, Mass., turned and chased the hounds, demonstrating that that is a game at which two can play.

Many will be glad to know the government favors lower utility rates if it classes the postoffice department as a utility.

If the government operated the utilities would rates have declined as rapidly during the depression as postage rates.

It must be understood, of course, that Methuselah never had to cross a street intersection in the midst of whirling motor traffic.

According to the newest of the magazines in our dentist's outer office, business was never better and, 1928 may prove an even bigger year.

GYPSY GIRL

THE STORY OF AN IMPASSIONED ROMANCE

READ THIS FIRST:

Consuelo, a beautiful gypsy girl who longs to dance, is loved by the Dummy, a deaf mute, and Marcu. She despises her mother, Anica, but is fond of her father, Girtza. Marcu tempts Consuelo with a huge diamond and she agrees to marry him until she suspects her gypsy sweetheart has tricked her out of the ring's value. In town she sees three men playing cards near a private car on a railroad siding. She dances for them.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 14

THE BLASE gentlemen from New York who had seen the world's best dancers leaned forward.

Ah, why was it that when she danced people seemed to hold their breath and forget the world about them? Did her feet beat out the rhythm of the magic that dragged them, or was it that because she danced on the heights she lifted them up with her?

"The end, Silence."

"Gypsy girl, you're wonderful," Stewart said and the others joined with him.

Consuelo brushed the perspiration from her forehead and breathlessly held out her arms, her body thrilling with the rhythm that still throbbed through her.

"I can dance, can't I?"

"Td say!"

"Kid, you're great!"

"Boy, when you step around like that you make my blood run hot and cold and I feel like a satyr ready to grab up my flute and go leaping around. Crazy, eh what?" It was Doug. Strangely enough, they did not laugh at him. "Do you know," he continued, "that you've danced before one of the biggest theatrical backers on Broadway?" He pointed to the gray-haired man. "This is Stewart Blackacre, the man who has made Broadway shows famous. He's the papa with all the dough that stands behind the scenes and never gets any of the glory, but nevertheless they all 'yes' him, from the stage hands to the biggest producers, and the names that flash in lights on Broadway are put there and taken out at his say so. King of the theatrical world." And Doug bowed before him.

"A hell of a friend you are," Stewart said. It was obvious that he was not pleased. "Now you'll have her asking me for a job."

"The whistle of a train sounded down the tracks."

"The porter appeared on the steps. 'Gentlemen, train's coming.' He gazed up the card table and glasses. 'Ticket got aboard, gentlemen. As soon as that limited goes through we get right on the tracks and start puffing along to make up for all this lost time we been spending here.'"

The shadows deepened about the girl's eyes.

"You're going now?"

"Yes."

She sighed.

"You won't forget about my slippers?"

Blackmir looked long and hard at her.

"Gypsy girl, I won't forget about your slippers—I won't forget about you, I guess. Now listen closely, we have to pass over this road in exactly 10 days and we'll have to wait here again. You come here and I shall have the slippers with the real high heels for you. It's a promise. Now remember, 10 days. That will make it a week from Thursday. A week after next Thursday, understand? I'll bring you the prettiest pair of slippers you ever saw."

The train on the main track was roaring down upon them.

"Are you really a man who puts

on shows just as he said?" she shouted above the noise.

"Yes."

"And New York—it might be the high hill, mightn't it?"

The thundering train blotted out the words.

"Gentlemen, all aboard!"

"Hey, Stewart, get on this thing before it pulls out and leaves us here. Goodby, gypsy."

Blackmir reached into his pocket and took out his bill fold.

"I've paid $50 to see dancers not half as good as you." He pressed a bill into her hand. "Buy something you want."

She nodded.

"Goodby, gypsy girl. Remember, be back here in 10 days. I won't fail you." For a second he held her hands in his and then swung onto the back of the car.

"Goodby," cried the girl. Her eyes were moist. "I won't forget."

Creaking, grinding, the puff, puff of the engine.

Consuelo stood and watched them till they were only dust on the horizon.

Ten days.

One gone.

Two gone.

Three gone.

"He is king of the theatrical world. Names in electric lights he puts and takes away. A king."

The moon was shining. It was round and bright. The girl was sitting alone away from the noise of the gypsy camp. Only the mellowed sound of singing reached her, carried aloft on the slim breeze and on the same slight breeze a leaf rustled and fell in graceful spirals to her skirt. She picked it up. It was red and golden and crisp and sadness came over her. They would be moving soon. When the leaves fell gypsy blood grew restless. They would not wait until cold was upon them, but long before would go south—to some eternal summer.

"The man who has made Broadway shows famous."

Autumn, hot, stifling, like the last head of summer burning itself out in a flare of spent energy. That effort was tiring—on, on, I am the King of Summer, I burn the fields dry and paint the forest with flames of red and sap the life from the leaves until they die and float to the ground. I won't give up and let the chill of winter come. I'm king here! King of Summer I am!

King of the theatrical world.

Autumn. Monotony. Anica, Marcu, the Dummy, Marcu, the Dummy, Anica—and Voda, as simple as Honey Bear following her around like a dog. Girtza looking at her with puzzled eyes. Pretty soon he would say, "My little frog, you have had your way long enough. Marcu has gold in his purse. Will it be him or will it be one of the other young chaps?" Out of mischief she might answer "the Dummy." Then would Girtza let loose his anger. "I will not have my wagnons filled with brats who cannot speak or hear me when I shout at them!"

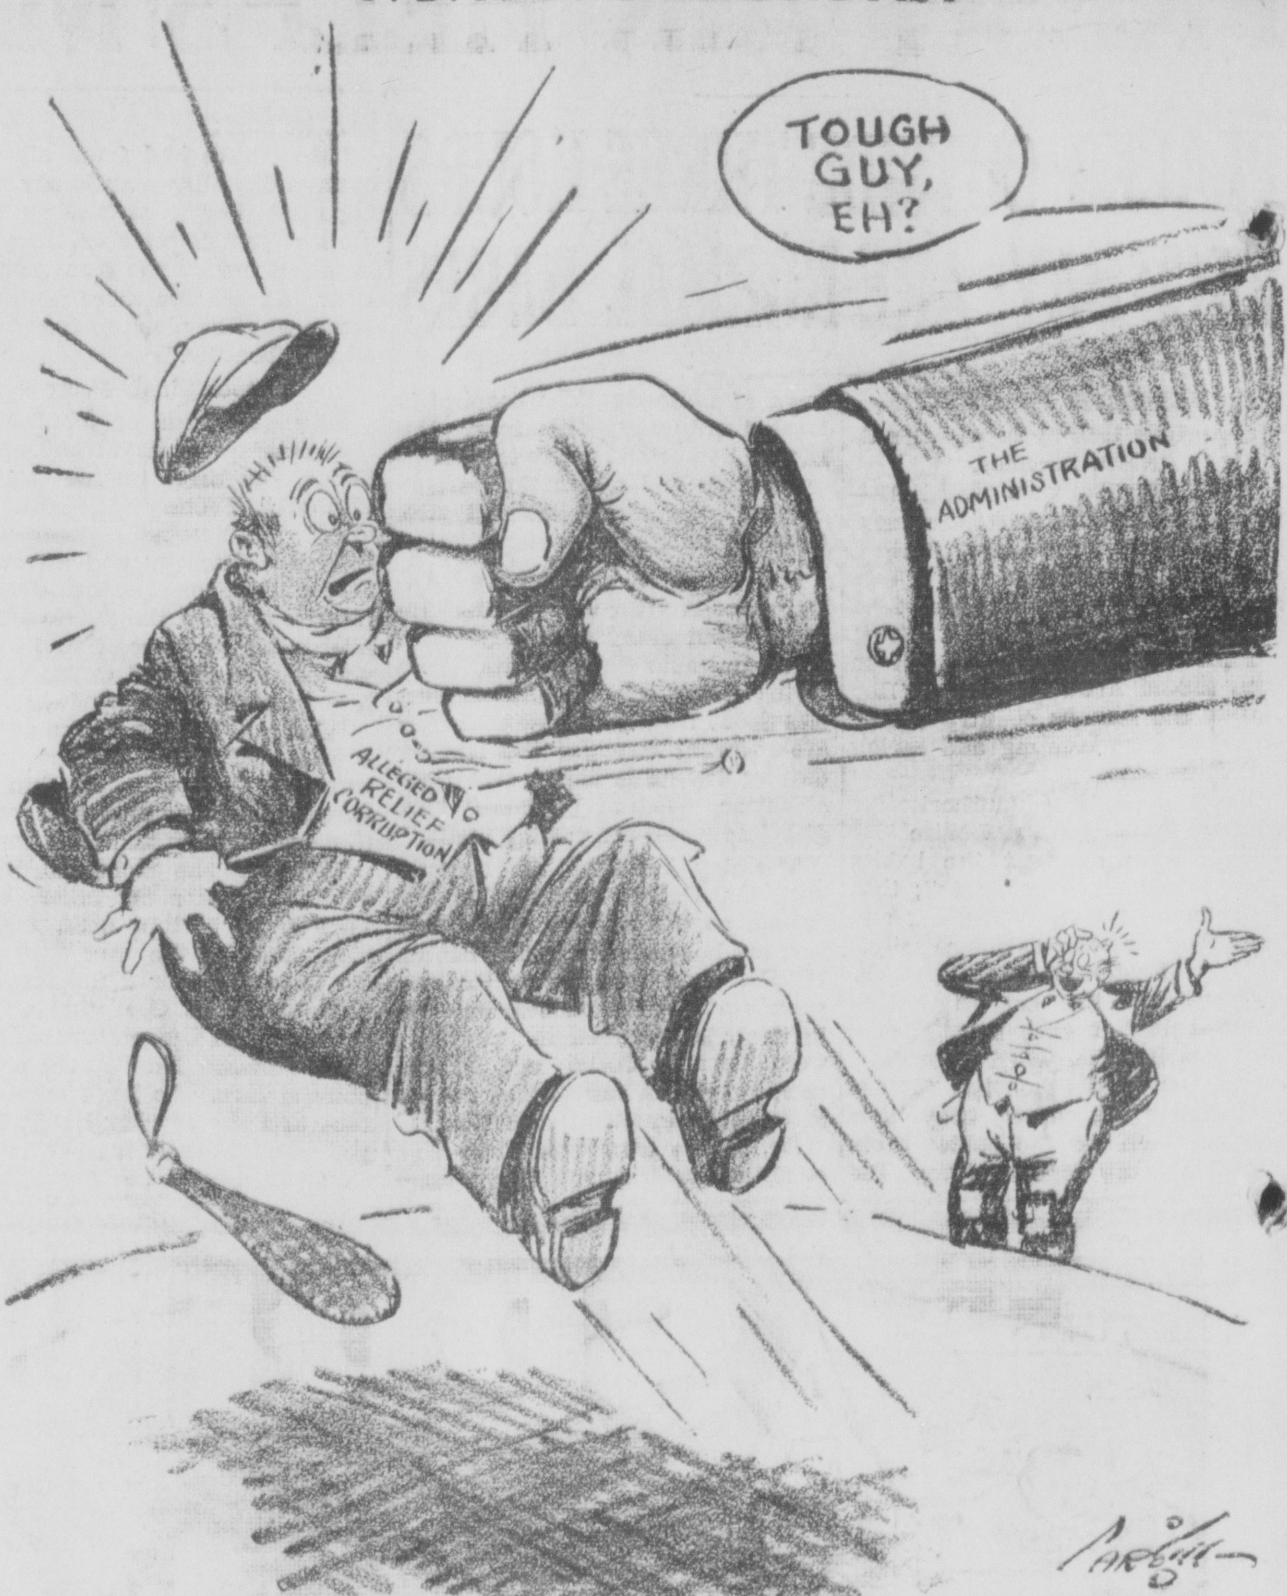

New York, where lights shone on Broadway. Shows! Dances! Dancers! Great theaters where men and women came. Surely there they would toss nothing less than round silver dollars. Round dollars to fall on the floor—clank—clink—clank—New York, why it was bigger than any of these towns. "He's the papa with all the dough." Papa with all the dough—that didn't make any sense whatever. Makes Broadway shows famous—names in electric lights saying, "Consuelo, the best dancer, is performing here." Bring your dollar and come and see this whirling little dancer. Step up, folk, Consuelo the gypsy is here. She will tell your fortune after the show all for the price of one round silver dollar.

From the shadows Marcu was watching the girl. He wondered what she was thinking about as she sat there so intense not noticing him. He called her name softly, but she did not move. How quiet she looked, all the sharp brightness of her mellowed by the soft rays of the moon. Marcu breathed deep of the sweet warm fragrance of the night and his blood stirred within him.

"Consuelo." He stepped out of the shadows.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

CAN YOU DEFEAT 3-NO TRUMPS

MRS. J. B. CLARKE, Los Angeles, sent in the following problem hand. She states that a friend from Fresno says 3-No Trumps cannot be made by West against an opening lead of a diamond. Mrs. Clarke asks if this is true. Play it double-dummy and see. The fact that during the auction East bid clubs and South bid hearts has nothing to do with the problem. Having only a singleton of partner's suit and a biddable suit of his own, North is justified in leading diamonds.

♦ J 10 9 8 7 4 3

♠ A 10 9 6
♥ A K 7 4
♦ A
♣ A Q 7 5

♠ K 8
♥ Q J 8 5 3 2
♦ K Q
♣ 8 6 3

Evidently West can lead off 8 tricks against any opening: 1 spade, 2 hearts, 1 diamond and 4 clubs. To go game West must pick up an added trick in one or the other major suit.

Lead the J of diamonds. Play South's Q as the K would indicate lack of the next lower honor. Of course the declarer has to win with his lone Ace. His only chance for game is to prevent South's discard of the blocking K of diamonds, as then North will hold an established diamond suit and a certain entry in spades, provided South gets rid of blocking the spade suit, so that he must lead hearts, and give the declarer the 7 of that suit.

Lead a low club. Win with dummy's 10. Lead the 10 of hearts. Cover with the J. Win with the K. If South is allowed to hold the heart trick he will lead the blocking K of diamonds. Lead the 7 of clubs. Win with dummy's J. Lead the 9 of hearts. Cover with the Q and West must win with the Ace. Have North discard diamonds when necessary, to preserve his spade entry.

What is West to do next? If he leads off his 2 good clubs South will discard his blocking diamonds. When West leads spades the K will win a low lead and the 8 will be led back. If West lays down his Ace of spades South must duck his K on the trick. Under no circumstances must South be forced to lead hearts.

If West does not take all his club tricks South cannot at once cast off the K of diamonds. Suppose East is put in with a third round of clubs and leads a spade through South. That player must put up his K. If the Ace wins only 2-odd can be made, as West can take only his Ace of clubs and Ace of spades. If the declarer lets South's K of spades win, that player will lead the K of diamonds, and then lead his last spade, giving West only 2-odd. The end appears to be an old problem lead of S. S. Lenz, with unimportant changes from the original.

Home Care for Sick Seen Often Better Than Hospital

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE HOME CARE of the sick by a member of the household is, in many cases, a necessity for financial reasons, and under no circumstances is it to be despised. Most sick people are more comfortable at home than at a hospital, and for most illnesses, even those that require confinement to bed, the patients are actually safer at home. We have entered a hospital era in this country during the last decade, plunged on hospitals, and it has led to the idea that a sick person is not really doing himself justice unless he is sick in a hospital.

The idea that you should go to a hospital because it has so much better facilities for caring for your disease if an emergency should arise is, in most cases, a-u-n-k bunk. A hospital is a place for the homeless, or for strangers in the city, if they fall sick, and for just a few diseases that can be better treated there than at home.

Every household, then, should have one member who is the official nurse.

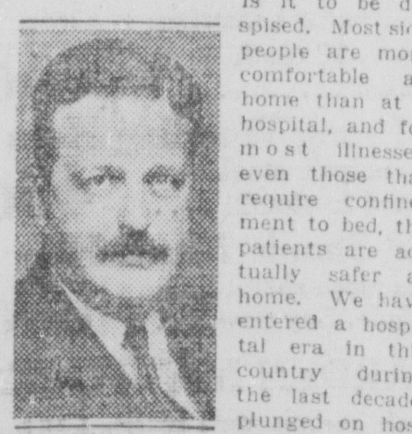

It will probably be the same one who does the cooking, and the house cleaning and the dish washing, but that's all right. She can take over the other job better than suffer watching the other one make a mess of it. "Just like everybody else," as the fellow said when he was asked what his daughters did—"One of 'em does the cooking, and one of 'em takes painting lessons."

The official trained nurse of the family should, like the professional trained nurse in the hospital, help the doctor, not attempt to take his place. (She should learn to read a fever thermometer accurately and take the patient's temperature at regular intervals. She should also learn to count the pulse and determine whether it is regular or not.

These things should be regarded in the form of a chart, similar to the chart the trained nurse keeps. It is so easy to forget the old-time when events happened and the time when they occurred that the chart is a primary necessity.

With the time recorded in the first column, the events of the day are accurately recorded. In the column on "remarks" one can note such things as "patient sleeping," "restless," "complaints of headache," "vomited," "coughed up some blood—saved for doctor to see," "cleansing bath," "sponge bath for fever."

There is nothing that is better calculated to make a good nurse than to keep the record on one case accurately.

FARM BUREAU PLANS SURVEY TO AID FARMS

To Study Need of Electrical Service In Rural Areas of State

COLUMBUS, Mar. 21—An exhaustive survey to determine the need for rural electrification in rural regions and the probable cost of establishing power units will be launched by the Ohio Farm Bureau April 1, officials announced today. Officials of county Farm Bureau units in every county of the state will survey their districts, under the direction of Perry L. Green, president of the state organization to learn whether enough rural residents are interested in extending rural electrification to warrant establishment of power units by the Farm Bureau.

To Draft Budget

A budget of estimated costs of inaugurating electric power service through power stations built by the Farm Bureau will be drafted following the survey and sent to federal Public Works administrators, with an application for federal aid, officials of the Farm Bureau said.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21—Cooperative rural electrification projects in many states, developed with the aid of PWA, are in prospect as a result of legislative action already passed, or under way, in various states.

Bills drafted with the aid of the PWA have been introduced in the legislatures of several states, and are under consideration in others, among them Texas, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Minnesota, California, Washington and Utah.

In Texas the prospect of rural electrification development is allied with the harnessing of natural gas resources. According to public Works Administration Harold L. Ickes, approximately 1,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas is wasted daily in the Texas Panhandle oil district.

May Run Pipes

Texas authorities are drafting legislation, following conferences with PWA legal aids, to set up a state natural gas conservation authority with plans to run pipe lines to St. Louis and Detroit. Allied with this plan are proposals for utilization of natural gas to drive dynamos for electrification projects.

The members enjoying this pleasant affair were: Mrs. Egbert Freshour, Mrs. Robert Brundige, Mrs. J. P. Gardner, Mrs. W. R. Sunderland, Mrs. G. W. McGinnis, Mrs. R. E. Lightner, Mrs. H. S. Boggs and Misses Josephine Brundige and Mildred Holderman. The visitors were: Mrs. John Winchett of Columbus; Mrs. A. Dane Ellis, Mrs. Ralph Metzger, Mrs. Herbert Snyder and Miss Margaret Thomas. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening and at the close of the playing Miss Josephine Brundige was awarded the club prize and Mrs. Winchett was presented the guest prize.

Mrs. Ira Korst and daughter.

Nancy, of Chillicothe were the week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will L. Evans and family.

The Burrell Tea Room was beautifully decorated on Sunday in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. Festoons of green and white crepe paper hung from the ceiling and were draped about the rooms and with shamrocks, flags and pipes in miniature on the curtains made the house very festive indeed. A large assembly of guests enjoyed the delicious dinner also in keeping with the day. Miss Margaret Smith did the decorating.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Leist and sons, Jimmy and Tommie of Columbus were the week-end guests of his mother, Mrs. Jane Leist.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Weiler of Circleville were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Anderson on Sunday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lightner were delightful host and hostess to the Anniversary club on Saturday evening. Among those enjoying the pleasant affair were Mr. and Mrs. A. Dan Ellis, Mr. Egbert Freshour, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland, F. I. Rittenour, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis H. Dreisbach, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McGinnis and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Winchett of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brundige, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Borders, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Boggs and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Snyder.

Among those seeing the show, "Roberta" at the Sherman Theatre in Chillicothe on Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McGinnis and their guests Mr. and Mrs. John Winchett and Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lightner.

Carl Hohenstein left on Tuesday morning for Cleveland, where he will enter the United States Marine hospital for observation. Mr. Hohenstein sustained an injury to his left arm at a work more than a year ago and it will not get well.

Mr. and Mrs. David M. Betz celebrated their fifty-fourth wedding anniversary on Wednesday, March 13. A twelve o'clock dinner was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Betz, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Betz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Betz and family and Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Bower and daughter, Catherine.

FORD Strikes a new note in INTERIOR DESIGN-

• THE MODERN MOTIF—Red and black accentuate the instruments making them easier to see. The control knobs and cigarette lighter are Ivory Colored Plastic. Center striping is chromium. Convenient glove compartment.

EXPERTS in color design are enthusiastic about the new Ford Deluxe interiors. They have "spotted" immediately a new note in interior design—the subtle use of taupe grey as a background for feminine costumes.

Window mouldings, door handles, the instrument panel and even the beautiful, slim steering wheel, are all finished in blended greys. This color scheme cannot possibly clash with even the most brilliant ensemble. On the contrary, it will accentuate it.

And the upholstery!... Here is beauty coupled with long-wearing quality characteristic of custom-built cars. In all Ford Deluxe closed cars you have your choice of two materials at no extra cost... Mohair, or soft, pin stripe broadcloth in Sedans and Coupes—Bedford Cord or 100% Wool Suede in Touring Sedans.

Harriman, Officer of the Blue Eagle is Now its Real Chief

WASHINGTON—The NRA has a new boss.

He isn't listed as such on the rolls. He is not even a member of the Blue Eagle board. But he is top man, notwithstanding.

The new generalissimo is tall, sallow-faced W. Averell Harriman, socialite, polo player and multi-millionaire. By inheritance he is head of the Union Pacific Railroad and a director in many corporations.

Officially, Harriman has the title of Executive Officer and as such is nominally subordinate to the NRA board by whom he was appointed.

Actually he is the whole works.

Few outside the inner group of NRA executives know it, but Harriman has been presiding over NRA board meetings for some time. With the retirement of Chairman S. Clay Williams his grip on the Blue Eagle doubled.

Shy and ill-at-ease in public, Harriman assiduously courts the background—although, privately, he would like to be summoned before the Senate Finance Committee, whose members know nothing about him.

But everything that transpires in the NRA passes over Harriman's desk.

And when it comes to speaking for the Blue Eagle, it is Harriman who does the talking. Every afternoon at 2:30 o'clock he holds a press conference.

Harriman likes to consider himself a liberal, but his theories of what should be done about the NRA have a decidedly pro-industrial slant.

At one of his press conferences Harriman proposed that the NRA should be rewritten to eliminate the famous collective bargaining Section 7a and to give industry a larger measure of "self-government."

Tough Guy

Congressional mail has its sorrows and occasionally its joys.

Recently Philadelphia's Representative Frank Dorsey received a letter from a constituent demanding that he vote against the World Court.

At much pains, Dorsey replied that such matters were not subject to House action, but were dealt with solely by the Senate. He even included quotations from the Constitution in his letter.

A few days later Dorsey received the following answer from the voter:

"So that's the kind of a man we elected? Afraid to express the will of the people because of a few cock-eyed rules. Why in hell don't you go over to the Senate and tell them what we voters want done?"

Hide and Seek

Washington police are playing a game of hide-and-seek these days with the operators of gambling joints in the District of Columbia.

Increased demand for gambling came with Washington's New Deal prosperity.

Something more than vigilance has been required of District police. They operate under the handicap of not being allowed to use the "small warrant." In other words, before making arrests they must gain access to a joint and actually make a play. Then follows the affidavit, the warrant, and the raid.

To be dressed in plain clothes is not sufficient disguise. Operators now no strangers past the heavily barred doors, unless properly introduced.

Favorite ruse of District vice-squad is to assign new and youthful officers to these jobs. Dressed like college boys, hatless, wearing white shoes in winter, they pass as students of Georgetown or George Washington university. Police admit they do not know how many joints are in operation.

BERGER BILLS AGAIN TALKED BY CITY DADS

UP TO COMMITTEE

Safety Director Also Hits School Patrols

Complaint that council had failed to back him up in his effort to collect delinquent bills at Berger hospital was voiced Wednesday evening by L. T. Shaner, safety director in Mayor W. B. Cady's administration, at the regular council meeting.

Mr. Shaner occupied the center of the stage during a large part of Wednesday's meeting with collection of bills and abuse of the safety patrol system as operated at city schools being topics for discussion.

The safety director declared that he would like to have the bills, which now amount to more than $4,000, collected and would like to have council devise some method. "The superintendent cannot collect the bills and I believe it takes a specialist to do the work. I had a system worked out a while ago but council failed to back me up although I was abused in the newspaper after I selected an agency to do the job. The agency quit because we would not sign a contract," he declared.

Approves Letters

The month after the collection agency (a Jackson, O., outfit operated by a man named Shaner) sent letters to a number of delinquents, Mr. Shaner said, more than $1,600 was received at the hospital. He expressed belief that the letters sent by the agency did some good.

Councilman C. O. Leist, chairman of the hospital committee, expressed regret that the agency's work has not been continued saying that he thought the collection work would have been taken care of.

Solicitor Carl Leist said he didn't believe it was his duty to ride the streets and try to collect the money due the hospital and Councilman Ben H. Gordon assailed appointment of a collection agency to try to get the money due the institution.

The matter was finally placed in the hands of the hospital committee, C. O. Leist, Ben Gordon and Frank A. Marion, with instructions from President John Goeller to try to learn what other hospitals are doing.

Opposed to Flags

Mr. Shaner's next declaration was that the flag signal system as employed to halt traffic to permit school children to cross highly.

BLOSSER CRITICAL

John Blosser, son-in-law of Dr. D. V. Courtwright, E. Mound-st., is in a very serious condition at his home on Caldwell-st., Chillicothe. He was removed to his home, Wednesday, from Mt. Carmel hospital, where he has been undergoing medical observation for the past several weeks.

COUNCIL 'APPROVES' DOESN'T 'CONFIRM' MERCHANT OFFICER

Council, Wednesday, declined to "confirm" W. W. Crissinger as merchant policeman but did "approve" of action of a number of merchants in appointing him to guard their property.

A petition asking "confirmation" of Crissinger as the merchant policeman was read in council but President John Goeller and others expressed belief that it was not up to council to "confirm" the appointment since the job is not city supported.

ROTARIANS VISIT STRAWBOARD PLANT

Rotarians enjoyed a trip through the Container Corporation plant Thursday, as guests of Ross Hunsicker, manager. After the meeting at the American Hotel the members went to the plant and Mr. Hunsicker personally conducted them through the plant and explained its operation.

The trip was greatly enjoyed and the members were pleased to learn of the many improvements that have been made during the past several years.

Council Passes Age Legislation

"Me Colored Too"—Windows Shattered

NEW YORK, Mar. 21—Police revealed today how a Chinese laundry proprietor "outfoxed" himself at the height of Tuesday night's rioting in Harlem.

Business neighbors of the Chinese hung signs bearing the word "colored" in their store windows in the hope the rioters would not molest establishments maintained by negroes.

So the laundryman hung out a large placard:

"Me colored too."

MELL FAVORS VETS' PAYMENT

Joins 17 Other Members of Ohio Delegation; Patman Measure Is Favored

Congressman Mell G. Underwood and 17 of the other members of the Ohio delegation in the house of representatives are in favor of immediate payment of the soldier's bonus, according to a poll conducted today.

Underwood has always been known as favorable to the legislation.

Three of the Ohio group are opposed while three others are rated in the doubtful class.

It is believed the Patman bill, inflationary since it proposed payment through printing of new money, will be substituted for the Vinson bill under which the bonus would be paid through issuance of government bonds.

WASHINGTON, March 21—A powerful campaign by the American legion for votes cast doubt today upon the house's choice of a $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus bill to be sent to the senate.

With two bills—the Vinson-Legion and the Patman-veterans-of-foreign-wars bills—topping all others in house consideration, both factions were making a desperate bid for votes.

75 EXPECTED AT COLLEGE DINNER

Approximately 75 are expected to attend the spring vacation dinner meeting of the Pickaway-co Ohio State Club at the American Hotel Coffee shop at 6:30 p. m. today.

Pat J. Kiwin, S. Court-st., president of the club, will preside.

Dr. W. H. Cowley, head of the personnel division of the bureau of educational research at Ohio State university, will speak on "The College of Today."

Students and their parents and persons who have attended Ohio State are invited to the meeting.

Hospital News

Mrs. Lillian Giffin, W. High-st., is a patient in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, for observation.

Charlotte Strawser, 16, of Stoutsville, was admitted to Berger hospital Thursday for treatment.

New Women's Store to Open

The Fashion Shop, a new ladies' store, managed by N. Groban, formerly of Cincinnati, will be open for business at 108 W. Main-st. Friday at 9 a. m.

The shop is strictly for women with quality merchandise to be offered at popular prices. Ladies' dresses, coats, suits, millinery, hosiery, lingerie and everything else that women will buy will be attractively displayed. No merchandise will be kept in boxes; all will be before the eyes of the customer.

Mr. Groban said today in announcing his plans for the opening that the store will carry a complete line of half-sizes and large sizes.

38 Is Top Age for Patrolmen, Firemen, While Age for Appointment to Chief of Either Department Is Set At 40

The age limit for appointees to police and fire departments today was seen as a probable campaign issue in the council election to take place this fall.

Council, after a long, drawn-out attempt to legislate the age limits for the two departments, passed under suspension of rules, Wednesday evening, the following age limitations:

Patrolmen and firemen, 24 to 38 years.

Service Men In Cold

Nothing is mentioned in the ordinance concerning ex-service men although a number of veterans appeared in council several weeks ago and urged that the age limit be placed at 40 for all appointees or else waived altogether in the case of service men. Some veterans have gone so far as to declare they will fight the candidacies of councilmen who favored the lower age limitation of 24 and 35 then 24 and 38 years, arrived at as a compromise among councilmen.

James McLaughlin, civil service commissioner, informed council after its vote that an examination would be held within a brief time in an effort to fill eligible lists for all appointive positions.

Appointees must be not less than 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 150 pounds and must be residents of the city for three years before applying for a job and must live within the city limits during employment. A grade of 70 per cent in a civil service examination and successful negotiation of a physical examination are other requirements.

Rules Suspended

Since the ordinance which had been discussed time after time was stringently revised it was introduced as a new ordinance and passed under suspension of rules. All councilmen voted to suspend the rules and pass the legislation.

LYNCH TO APPOINT FOUR COMMITTEES

Joe M. Lynch, president of the Athletic club, may be the key man in reorganization of that club as a result of a meeting Wednesday evening which committees of the CAC, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs attended.

Lynch was voted power to appoint committees on finance, house, membership and entertainment each to include one member of each of the four organizations.

After some discussion it was deemed advisable that the exact financial status of the club be ascertained and the club program be outlined by the house committee before a membership drive is made.

An effort is being made to rejuvenate the CAC and all civic organizations are trying to assist. The CAC members have voted to accept the assistance of the various committees.

4 YOUTHS HELD

Virgil Dixon, Harold Rambo, Russell Smith and Berman Moss, all local youths, were held in city jail overnight after they were arrested while acting suspiciously in an alley in the uptown business district. They were taken to jail by Officer Alva Shasteen.

They were booked for investigation.

NED BELL HURT AS AUTO-TRAIN HIT AT HIGH-ST.

Jackson-twp Man's Head Cut, Right Arm Fractured at 6:48 a. m.

WAS ENROUTE HOME

N. & W. Passenger Train Delayed 10 Minutes

Ned H. Bell, well-known Jackson-twp farmer, was in Berger hospital today suffering a deep cut on his head and a fractured right arm after his automobile was struck by No. 33, Norfolk & Western passenger train, at 6:48 a. m. Thursday.

The accident happened at the W. High-st. grade crossing. Mr. Bell's automobile was badly damaged in the collision.

The passenger train was traveling toward Columbus and had not reached its full speed or the accident might have been a fatal one.

Returning to Farm

Mr. Bell had brought a Jackson-twp youth to this city to go to work and was returning to his farm when the rear end of his car was struck. The injured man was taken to Berger hospital in the Albough Co. ambulance. His injuries were treated by Dr. Lloyd Jones.

The Bell automobile was knocked to the east bound track and railroad traffic was delayed until the car was removed. The passenger train was delayed about 10 minutes.

Fred Goetz, of Portsmouth, road foreman in charge of engines, was operating the locomotive at the time of the accident.

DEATH TAKES SCREEN ACTOR

William Boyd Dies In Hospital; Blood Transfusions Fail to Save Life

HOLLYWOOD, March 21—William Boyd, stage and screen actor, died suddenly in a hospital here shortly before midnight.

Stricken with gastric hemorrhages he was rushed to a hospital from his Hollywood hills home, and blood transfusions were resorted to in a vain effort to save his life.

Boyd, known as "stage" Boyd to distinguish him from another actor, came here from New York after talking pictures succeeded the silent movies.

He was one of the first of the Broadway notables drafted to the movies for talking pictures.

Specializing in character roles—mostly of the hard-boiled type—he became an instant screen success.

Among the last pictures in which Boyd appeared was "Trans-Atlantic Merry-Go-Round."

Boyd, who was born in New York 45 years ago, made his first stage appearance in "Peter Pan." He also appeared in "What Price Glory," considered his greatest stage work.

EBLIN, BRUNGS UP FOR PAROLE

George Eblin and Fred Brungs, local youths, will be given parole hearings at the Mansfield reformatory April 1. Both are serving one to 15 years for burglary and larceny.

They were sentenced in January, 1934.

Lloyd Carter, sent to the Ohio penitentiary last June 6 for automobile theft, will be eligible for a parole hearing May 1. Carter is serving one to 20 years.

WANT OLD RAGS

Members of the American Legion auxiliary are soliciting material which may be used by patients in veterans' hospitals for making into rugs and carpets, and requests that bundles of rags be taken to Memorial hall on Saturday.

Strange Suit

Damage amounting to $200,000 are sought by Mrs. Doris Preisler and her husband, Sidney Preisler, from a film producing company and a Hollywood movie theater as a result of the death of their unborn child. Mrs. Preisler alleges her child was born prematurely as a result of nervous shock after she has observed a newsreel portraying the bullet-ridden body of "Baby Face" Nelson, Chicago gangster, last December.

INCREASE OF ARMY IS SEEN

May Add 165,000 Men to War Department; Germany Action Brings Move

WASHINGTON, March 21—Mandatory increase of the army from 118,750 to 165,000 men appeared likely today following a conference between House and Senate leaders in charge of the war department appropriation bill.

Although the conferees failed to conclude their deliberations, Rep. Parks (D) of Arkansas, announced there was increasing sentiment for the mandatory increase. They expect to reach a decision next week.

The house authorizes the president to increase the enlisted strength as he sees fit while the senate ordered the additions and appropriated $20,000,000 for this purpose. The senate also added $2,500,000 for enlarging the national guard by 5,000 men.

The fight for the mandatory increase gained support in the house following news of Germany's armament program.

KIWANIANS GATHER HERE THIS EVENING

Meeting Starts at 6:30 With 13 Clubs Represented; Newcomb Is Speaker

More than 200 Kiwanians are expected to attend a district meeting in Memorial hall beginning at 6:30 p. m. Thursday. The local club is acting as host with 12 other clubs to be represented.

Every Kiwanis district in Ohio is meeting this evening with Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, to make an address at 8 p. m. over a telephone-radio hook-up. The address will require about 20 minutes, it is believed, with the talk being part of the program.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 with a splendid musical and speaking program to follow. George Kah and Pete Laudeman, Portsmouth, will be in charge of group singing. The former is rated one of the best leaders in Ohio while the latter is equally as efficient at the piano. Accordion music will also have a part in the program with Walter Shay of Sabina, to be on hand to play his expensive instrument.

The highlight of the evening will be an address by Prof. Charles Newcomb of Delaware, whose topic will be "How to be Happy Though Educated." Newcomb is widely known as a humorist and his talk is an entirely new one.

Several of the clubs are sending representatives in busses. In addition to the local club Kiwanians will be here from Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Logan, Lancaster, Northwest Columbus, Linden Heights, Northern Columbus, Delaware, Newark, Marysville, New Lexington and Downtown Columbus.

The meeting will be the largest Kiwanis gathering ever held here.

NEED FOUR CHARGES TO KILL TOUGH GUY

CHICAGO, March 21—Chester Novak, 30-year-old killer, made good his boast that he would be "the toughest guy they ever burned in that chair" when he was electrocuted early today at Cook-co jail.

His executioners gave the self-styled "tough guy" the usual two jolts of electricity after he had marched, soldier-like, to the chair.

Witnesses assumed he was dead and prepared to leave. But he wasn't dead, as the six doctors who examined him attested. For the first time in the history of the county jail death room, two more burning jolts of electricity were administered—one of 1,900 volts, one of 900.

CASH RELIEF GRANTS SEEN

Stillman to Inaugurate System April 15; More Employees Off Payroll

COLUMBUS, March 21—A state-wide plan of allowing cash relief grants to replace grocery orders will be inaugurated in Ohio April 15, Charles C. Stillman, federal relief administrator for Ohio, announced today.

Simultaneously, Stillman announced the dismissal of 25 additional employees at the state relief headquarters here. The dismissals bring the total number of employees discharged since Stillman took over the federal relief administration a week ago to 60 persons.

To Be Independent

Announcing the plan for state-wide cash relief grants, Stillman asserted the move was being made to satisfy the desires of those on relief "to be independent."

"There is no geography of human nature," Stillman said. "We must be solicitous of the welfare of people on relief."

The cash relief plan, Stillman said, will be optional. Those who prefer to continue receiving groceries may do so, he said. The relief director stated, however, it was believed the cash relief plan would meet the favor of the majority of those on relief.

Payments will be made by either cash or check, Stillman said. A ruling is being sought from the state tax commission to determine if the relief checks will serve as evidence for exemption from the state sales tax.

Exempt From Tax

Grocery orders now are exempt from the sales tax levy and it is hoped, Stillman said, that orders placed with the presentation of relief checks also may be exempted.

Only one other state in the nation is operating on a cash relief plan. New Jersey has such a plan in operation and, Stillman said, it is reported to be "very efficient there."

CCC YOUTH WEDS

Word has been received here that William Robinson, former high school football player who is now a member of the Civilian Conservation corps, has married an Arvin, Calif., girl, named Ruby Geer. The marriage was announced by the bride's mother.

AGED PICKAWAY-TP WOMAN IS CLAIMED

Mrs. Deniza Radcliffe, 91, Dies; Funeral Services to Be Friday

Mrs. Deniza Sutter Radcliffe, aged 91, one of Pickaway-co's oldest women, died Wednesday at the home of her son, Charles, in Pickaway-twp. She succumbed after a paralytic stroke.

She was the widow of Isaac Radcliffe.

Resides the son at whose home she died she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Anna Webb of Wheeling, Ky., Mrs. Mollie Thompson of Holden, W. Va., Henry of Cowen, Okla., and Andrew of Champaign, W. Va.

The funeral will be Friday at 10 a. m. at the Kingston Methodist church with Rev. Paul Nicewander officiating. Burial will be in Kingston by Donald E. Whetsel.

GREEN IS SECRETARY

GRAND JURY HEAR DETAILS IN RELIEF WAR

Hoskins Calls Members of Relief Department, Others Before Jury

POULSON TO TESTIFY

Dan Duffy, Davey's Aide, is First Called

COLUMBUS, March 21—White Democratic members of the state legislature called upon President Roosevelt "to right the wrong done our governor," scene of Ohio's spectacular and sensational relief squabble shifted today to the Franklin-co grand jury here.

Investigation by the grand jury of the so-called relief scandal, which has drawn Ohio sharply into the limelight of national news and which has become a topic of gossip and comment as it involves the "New Deal" administration in Washington, was called by Franklin-co Prosecutor Donald J. Hoskins.

Nine subpoenas, including one for State Democratic Chairman Francis A. Poulson, have been issued by Hoskins in connection with the probe, directed on the basis of affidavits furnished by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in Washington of an alleged "shake-down" of firms selling relief supplies.

The "shake-down," according to the allegations of Hopkins, was for the purpose of replenishing the coffers of the Democratic campaign and inaugural funds.

W. R. McNamara, the suspended director of the surplus commodities division at the relief commission, who signed an affidavit in Washington on March 16, stating that attaches of Democratic headquarters, asked him to collect $10,000 to make up a campaign deficit, was an early arrival at the courthouse.

"To me it is a laughing matter," he smiled. "I see no wrong-doing and I believe the probe is going to fall flat."

NAZIS SCOFF AT PROTESTS

Say Other European Powers Broke Versailles Treaty Long Before They Did

By International News Service.

The European arms crisis neared a showdown today as France and Italy protested to Berlin over Reich rearmament and Germany countered with a vigorous rejoinder, accusing the former allies of violating their peace pact and disarmament pledges. Developments in leading capitals:

Paris—France cited Germany before the League of Nations and sent a strong protest to Berlin, charging the Reich with disturbing the peace of Europe by alleged unilateral violation of the Versailles treaty.

Rome—The Italian government dispatched a similar note, insisting German rearmament must be achieved by international consent.

Berlin—The Reich government flatly rejected both protests, staging a sensational counter-march by accusing the allies of violating the Versailles treaty long before Germany decided to restore military conscription.

RUNAWAYS TAKEN BACK TO HOMES

Two 14-year-old Columbus girls, reported runaways, were returned to their homes Wednesday evening by Juvenile Officer Frank Goff who, with Officer Carl Radcliffe, took them into custody.

The girls were Addie Powell, 252 Jewett-st., and Evelyn Osborne, 219 E. Donaldson-st.

Well Being Drilled At Berger Hospital

A well is being drilled at Berger hospital by Harley Noggie, under direction of Safety Director L. T. Shaner. The driller is now down 140 feet and plans to go 200 feet further in an effort to strike groundwater.

COUNCIL TOLD NOT TO VOTE NEW GAS RATE

H. Phipps, of Universal Pipeline Co., Warns Act May Hinder His Contract

Officials of Circleville and Chillicothe have received a communication from W. H. Phipps, president of the Universal Pipeline Co., advising them not to negotiate a rate with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. on the grounds that it would complicate dealings with the pipeline company and might even prevent consummation of the city's agreement with the latter concern.

The letter was received here by Solicitor Carl C. Leist, who read it in a committee meeting of the council record, Wednesday evening. Solicitor Phil Butler, of Chillicothe, received the same warning.

Phipps says that pipe will begin to be laid between gas field and Circleville, through Chillicothe and Portsmouth about April 1, contracts to this effect having already been signed.

In his letter, Phipps says he does not believe it would be wise to take any action with the gas company at this time as it might prevent or interfere with any condemnation proceedings should the Universal lay its lines here. He also declares that the same situation exists at Canton where the pipeline company will be held up until a present contract between the city of Canton and the gas company expires.

"This compromise effort is being introduced, I feel sure, for the purpose of defeating our purpose," Phipps wrote Leist.

In view of the contentions outlined in Phipps' letter, Leist is making a thorough investigation of the legal side of the question, having previously been of the opinion that any agreement entered into the gas company by way of an ordinance would not affect the status of the city's contract with the Universal.

FUNERAL DIRECTOR IS CLAIMED AT 54

COLUMBUS, March 21.—Ferdinand P. Schoedinger, 54, funeral director, active in Masonry and other organizations, died of heart disease Wednesday night. He was past president of the National Funeral Directors' association. He leaves his widow, a daughter and a son.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Adrienne Ames is here seen using her feminine wiles on Ralph Bellamy apparently with some success. In this scene from R. K. O. Radio's "Gigolotto" which comes Friday and Saturday to the Cliftona, Tim McCoy will also be screened in "The Westerner."

Banishing Illiteracy

Miss Margaret E. Brennecke

Reading, writing and a background of practical education may be China's weapon for banishing war lords and bandit gangs, says Miss Margaret E. Brennecke, who has just returned to the United States after five years working as secretary for the Y. W. C. A. in Chefoo, China. "Great masses of the people who can neither read nor write are pushed this way and that by military leaders," says Miss Brennecke, "and forced to pay tribute because they are both helpless and know not what else to do. China is now looking at this weakness and doing something about it by establishing schools everywhere."

BURK APPROVAL IS POSTPONED

COLUMBUS, March 21.—Approval of Clarence H. Burk as director of liquor control in Ohio was delayed in the senate Wednesday when the name was sent back to the rules committee. It was explained by Senator Paul Yoder, Democratic leader: "The Republicans don't want to act until Democrats are united and the Democrats are not unified."

WANTED TO BE "DEVIL"

HELSINGFORS.—A man who wanted to be "Mr. Devil" was refused permission. He was a shoemaker who was one among 24,000 applicants seeking to change their Swedish surnames to more Finnish sounding ones in connection with Kalevala centenary celebrations. He wished to be known as "Mr. Pinn" which is the Finnish for Satan.

FRIENDS HONOR MRS. ROY BEATY

A group of friends arranged a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beaty, W. Mound-st., Wednesday, as a pleasant surprise for Mrs. Beaty, celebrating her birthday anniversary.

Following the dinner at 6:30 o'clock a merry evening was spent at the card tables. Bridge was in progress at four tables and high score awards were presented Mrs. N. E. Reichelderfer and M. S. Rinehart.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helwagen, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denman, Mr. and Mrs. George Diesbach, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Chalfin, Mrs. F. M. McCollister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price and Mr. and Mrs. Beaty.

D. U. V. SEWING CIRCLE MEETS

Mrs. E. L. Price and Mrs. E. L. Tolbert were hostesses to members of the Daughters of the Union Veterans sewing circle, Wednesday afternoon, when they met in the Post room at Memorial hall for their bi-monthly session.

The enjoyable hours spent in sewing were concluded when the hostesses served refreshments.

In two weeks Mrs. James Trimmer and Mrs. Bertha Walker will entertain the circle.

MRS. BOGGS HOSTESS TO CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. John Boggs, W. Union-st., was hostess to members of her two table bridge club at her home, Wednesday evening.

At the conclusion of the interesting game favor for top score was presented Mrs. George P. Foreman.

Next week the club will meet with Mrs. R. R. Bales, E. Main-st.

MRS. MCCORD HOSTESS AT BRIDGE WEDNESDAY

Miss Mildred Ruffner and Mrs. Myra Rader were additional guests when Mrs. Harold McCord entertained the members of her bridge club at her home on N. Court-st., Wednesday evening.

Cards were in play at two tables and when tallies were added Mrs. Gordon were awarded trophies for high score.

STATE CONVENTION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS IN APRIL

Ohio club women will gather in Columbus April 10, 11, and 12 to attend the thirty-ninth annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs. Headquarters will be the Deshler-Wallick hotel where sessions will be held. Miss Elizabeth Haymaker, Ravenna, state president, will preside.

The Monday club of this city is a member of the Federation.

Varied interests of public welfare, government, health and education are to be presented by the speakers. Justin Miller, of the United States Department of Justice, is to talk on Crime Prevention, and Miss Julia Jaffray, prominent welfare worker of New York City, will be one of the speakers. Dr. F. L. Rector, of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, is to map the educational campaign in cancer control which the Federation is sponsoring in Ohio.

Among the speakers representing the General Federation of Women's Clubs will be Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, Chester, Pa., legislative chairman; Mrs. John Phillips, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Harvey Wiley, president of the District of Columbia Federation.

Other speakers will be Miss Delia Ibarbura, Uruguay, Pan American fellowship student at Ohio State university; Phillip R. Adams, assistant director Columbus Art Museum; Samuel Wyer, Columbus; and Mrs. Robert G. Sarvis, Cincinnati, chairman of fine arts in the state federation.

A feature of the final day will be a debate on the Equal Rights Amendment presented by Mrs. Harvey Wiley, member of the National Women's party, and Mrs. Hiram S. Bronson, Jr., Columbus, president of the Franklin-co League of Women Voters.

Eight district luncheons are planned for April 11, and special breakfast and luncheon conferences will be devoted to club institutes, junior club work, publicity, book reviews and club problems.

MISS FOHL ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB AND GUESTS

Miss Marguerite Fohl, N. Pickaway-st., delightfully entertained the members of her card club and an extra table of guests at bridge, Wednesday evening, at the American hotel coffee shop.

Three tables of the planned diversion were in play with club favors for top score going to Miss Peggy Parks and Miss Virginia Marion. Guest prize was awarded Miss Irma Rader.

A delicious lunch served at an attractively appointed table brought the party to a close.

This Neckwear Is Quickly Done

PATTERN 5265

If you want to add a dainty touch to your clothes, try doing it with this lovely neckwear. It's the sort of thing that's quickly crocheted for it's done in an open mesh. It drapes softly, too, and we all know how flattering that makes it. Do it in string or yarn. The cuffs, of course, could go with any one of the three pieces. You can do them in two colors, two shades of a color or all in one color, as you wish.

In pattern 5265 you will find complete instructions for making the set shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements, and color suggestions.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Arts Dept., 124 W. Main St., Circleville, O.

Little Theatre Group's Performance is Successful

A fine production was witnessed by a large audience, Wednesday evening, in the Ashville high school auditorium, when the Little Theatre club of Ashville presented the play, "Adam and Eve," a comedy in three acts by Guy Bolton and George Middleton.

The acting of the performers reflects much credit on the director, Miss Nelle Oesterle, whose training was noted throughout the presentation.

The play was well-cast, William Duvall and Jessie Malden in the leading roles, Adam Smith and Eva King, were especially good.

William Newton as Horace Pilgrim, the uncle; Stewart Logsdon as Lord Andrew Gordon, the would-be son-in-law; and Margaret Hedges, as Corintha, the maid, portrayed their parts admirably.

Other characters were played by George Gardner as Dr. Jack Delamater, a neighbor; Lillian Kaiserman, Aunt Abby Rocker, the sister-in-law; Noel Duvall, James King, the father; Elizabeth Pontius, Julie DeWitt, the elder daughter, and John Wright as Clinton DeWitt, all carrying off their parts in a creditable manner.

The story concerns a family noted for its extravagant spending. The father, James King, in a desperate moment appoints a "new" father, Adam Smith, who is also his business manager, to manage his home for three months while he goes on a business trip.

Much interest and merriment is provided through Adam's efforts in getting the family to work. All ends happily, with Adam and Eva, the younger daughter, to be married in the near future.

Music was furnished between acts by an orchestra under the supervision of Miss Eliza Plum.

Other members of the staff included Helen Bowers, Elizabeth Cronley, Elizabeth Hedges, Esther Mae Petty, Ernestine Pobst, Mary Alice Scothorn, Mary Ellen Wright, Junior Courtwright and Harry Margulis.

Where You Can Always Do Better

Janet Allen Walker

Jimmy Walker and his present wife, the former Betty Compton.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 21.—A very pleasant, short woman sits in a comfortable chair under a royal palm on the lawn of her beautifully appointed garage apartment at 40th street and Royal Palm avenue here, chatting affably yet cautiously with a reporter.

She is Janet Walker, one of the newest and most popular night club hostesses in the gay whirl of Miami night life.

Today—
Today her former husband in London says he is "broke," that his income of $109 a week from newspaper writing is insufficient to pay the bills which he charges were incurred by Mrs. Janet Walker and for which he avers he is not legally responsible. The former Mrs. Walker, on the other hand, finds living on her salary, reported to be $100 a week, to be quite comfortable.

But Mrs. Janet Walker will not answer Jimmy's charges; nor will she comment on his present wife, the former Betty Compton.

"You see," she says, "I have never, and never will, do anything to jeopardize his business or political position. He still is Jim to me, not a man I want to hurt." It is obvious that she still loves New York's former playboy mayor.

Mrs. Walker's Duties
Mrs. Walker says she likes her work. Her duties consist solely of being present and chatting with guests each night at the expensive Palm Island club on Palm Island, Miami Beach, where Earl Carroll's Vanities cavort. She was given the position by William V. Dwyer, majority stockholder in the race tracks at Tropical Park, Miami, and Coney Island, Cincinnati, and owner of the Palm Island club. Dwyer, who was indicted recently for operating a gambling house at the club, has Carroll as his stooge operator.

Mrs. Walker has lived in Miami Beach for two years, winter and summer. She says she likes the resort city and has no desire to return to New York, where she underwent many heartaches.

A Pleasant Sport
Mrs. Walker's garage apartment is in a beautiful section of the Beach, just around the corner from the real estate office of an Al Smith. It is entirely closed in by a white stucco wall over which there are blooming red and lavender bougainvillea. Outside the driveway, the only entrance to the yard, stands Mrs. Walker's shiny new popular-priced car, which she drives herself. The wide iron gate barring the driveway bears the signs, "Beware of the dogs," and "Please close the gate."

The first sign is no bluff, for one's first greeting is a rush of a pair of Boston bull terriers who bark and sniff suspiciously. One word from their mistress and "China" and "Dingie" lose interest in the newcomer.

Mrs. Walker is just a bit over five feet tall. Her black wavy hair, combed straight back from her forehead, is tinged with gray. She is wearing sun-glasses but through them one can see kind, understanding gray-brown eyes. She has a small perfect mouth with pearly teeth. Her smile is disarming.

No Makeup
She uses no makeup and her skin is firm and clear. She is wearing a brown cotton sport dress with white buttons, and sport shoes.

The new night club hostess has a knack of making the visitor feel completely at ease. She is of the motherly type, inviting secrets. Mrs. Walker has been approached with several offers from authors who want to write her life's story. But she refuses.

Is she unhappy with only her negro maid as a companion? "I'm perfectly contented here with my two children."

"Children?"
"My two little pups."

RACCOON HAS FUN

CLEVELAND—It took one photographer, one reporter, two Mrs. Kosmersals, a bar of chocolate, a ladder, and a lot of coaxing to rescue Coonie, a pet raccoon, from the side of an apartment house here where he had crawled after escaping from the home of Mrs. Kosmeral.

PERRY-TWO SCHOOL NEWS

Musical Festival Participants Selected

The following high school pupils have been selected to represent Atlanta in the chorus at the County Musical Festival: Bass, Maynard Campbell and Ray Creighton; tenor, Lawrence Hunter and Dudley Steele; alto, Jean Overmeyer and Addie Ruth Skinner; soprano, Louise Skinner and Gayla Tarbill.

The orchestra has not yet been selected but the participants will be picked soon.

Basketball Banquet

Last Saturday night the boys and girls basketball teams were honored at a banquet sponsored by their mothers. Reverend Moore of Williamsport was the speaker of the evening. "Dutch" Leonard, who has refereed several of our games in the last two years was present and gave a short speech in which he praised the sportsmanship of the Atlanta teams. The parents of the players were invited and several of them were called on to make a few remarks.

The big event of the evening was the awarding of the varsity keys and letters. The girls who received keys were Addie Ruth Skinner, Betty Campbell, Jean Overmeyer, Gayla Tarbill, Fernie Bentley and Martha Donohoe. The boys who received keys were Thomas Farmer, Junior Stevenson, Maynard Campbell (manager) and Virgil Bentley. Letters were awarded to Robert Campbell, Glenn Skinner, Dudley Steele, Louise Skinner, Martha Wright, Ruth Bentley, Bertha Duvall (manager), Martha Conaway (cheer leader) and Samuel Athey (cheer leader).

Debate

The freshman English class had a debate Monday morning. The topic for debate was, "Resolved that James Fitz-James was a Greater Man than Rhoderick Dhu." The victory was awarded to the affirmative team composed of Howard Betts, Samuel Athey, and Dempsey Patrick. The aim of this debate was to accustom the pupils to speaking before the class.

The P. T. A. will have its monthly meeting at the school building on Thursday night, March 21.

Literary Program

The first program of the literary society will be presented at the high school auditorium on Monday, March 25, at 2:30 p. m. Everyone come and help make this undertaking a success.

Scholarship Tests

The eighth grade state tests will be taken at New Holland high school building on March 29, at 9 a. m. Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Costlow will have charge.

Maynard Campbell and Allen Conrad will represent Atlanta at the Senior Scholarship Tests which will be held at the Circleville High School building on Saturday, March 23. A scholarship will probably be awarded.

The preliminaries of the general scholarship test will be held at Williamsport, April 13. The finals will be at Ohio State university on May 4. Our entries will be picked soon.

Last Friday the seniors went to Columbus to have their class photographs made.

DUST CLOUD SWEEPS MIDDLE WEST; MANY PERILS

Swirling Cloud Moves Eastward Toward Ohio; Pneumonia Blamed On Dust

CHICAGO, March 21—Swirling clouds of choking dust and fine silt, swept eastward from the west, penetrated the middle west today as far east as Chicago.

Having caused at least three deaths in Kansas towns and pestilence property damaged throughout the agricultural areas of the plains states, the billowing clouds of red dust swept across Illinois during the night.

By midnight the dust storm had filtered through metropolitan Chicago, limiting visibility to a half mile and casting a queer halo about street and traffic lights. Dry throats and smarting eyes followed the course of the storm. Relief was predicted for Illinois today with a shift of the wind to the northwest.

1,000 Miles Affected
The government weather bureau here estimated that an area 1,000 miles in extent was being swept by the dust clouds.

In Kansas traffic was brought to a standstill by the storm. Schools were closed in some of the areas where the storm was so severe that stock fences were buried by the sifting dust.

Three Kansas children died of pneumonia attributed to inhalation of the dust. Two-month-old Shirley Frazier and her sister, Bernita, 13, died at Palo, Kan.

The storm area centered in eastern Wyoming, western Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, extending north to the Black Hills. Rolling eastward, the storm swept across Missouri, lower Iowa and on across lower Illinois, toward Ohio. Damage to the wheat crop through the storm area will prove particularly severe, agricultural authorities warned.

DARBY-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

The period for assembly programs was spent last Friday in listening to Walter Damrosch's music Appreciation Program. The radio was furnished by Miss De Muth.

The Seniors have ordered the play "The Blue Bag" written by J. C. McMullen. This will probably be given the latter part of April. Miss DeMuth has been selected to coach it. The Juniors are planning to give their play in the near future.

The Seniors won the basketball tournament by defeating the Juniors in the finals Friday night.

Mr. Frasch has planned a volleyball tournament for this week.

Nine new pupils entered school this week to enlarge the enrollment of the already over-crowded elementary rooms.

A supply of new chemicals has been placed in the laboratory for the benefit of the science classes.

The school paper "The Darby Canter" will be issued this week and will be the final number of the old staff. A new staff will be elected this month.

Miss Jones has ordered a number of new books for the library, a good many of which are replacements for worn-out books. The Board's yearly appropriation of $65.00 for library purposes takes care of the books and magazines purchased each year.

Germany's New War Staff

Plans of these four men, engineers of new German war machine, have Krupp plant at Essen (left) working at wartime speed and capacity to supply this typical German soldier (right) and 500,000 others with most advanced death-dealing equipment. The four men forming the general staff to handle the Reich's army and navy are: (bottom to top) Admiral Erich Raeder; Gen. Freiherr von Fritsch, chief of staff; Gen. Werner von Blomberg, war minister; Gen. Hermann Goering, Hitler's air minister.

JACKSON-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

This week ends the seventh month of our school year. The teachers and pupils are alike finding the work progressing nicely and all regular class room work will be covered by early May. Several classes are finding the work heavy, due to rather slow progress earlier in the year. Attendance in the high school has improved especially during the past two weeks. Grade attendance is also better but does not compare with the high school. There are a few cases of childhood diseases but no epidemics as yet.

"MIN SETS THE STAGE"

The Junior Play, "Min Sets the Stage" will be given this Thursday night, March 21. This one act comedy will be preceded by a musical program of the Good Will Quartette of which Elzie Radcliffe (6th grade teacher) and his son are members. The cast follows:

"Ma" Enright, Augusta Peters. "Granny" Enright, Ruth Seymour.

Grace Enright, A younger daughter, Virginia Walters.

Minerva Enright, An older daughter, Janie Winks.

Mrs. Snook, A neighbor, Ruth Eccard.

Augustus Chapman, An art instructor, John Speakman.

General admission will be 15c. We are glad to welcome Saralie Grabbill into our sophomore class and Faith Grabbill to the third grade. They have come to us from Darby-twp schools.

The basketball season has closed with the Junior class champions of the boys and the Sophomores class champions among the girls. As to the "has-beens," the players north of Darby creek made the most baskets (or touchdowns) but neither side is sure of their exact status. An alumni game closed the final night of basketball for 1934-1935 season.

Junior Play

Work on the production "Here Comes Charlie" goes forward as practices are held daily. March 29 which falls on Friday night has been set as the date of the play. Each of the ten members of the Junior class has a part in the comedy. Remember the date March 29. A dismissal 19 and 20c. Tickets are now on sale by the Juniors.

Chapel

Rev. Wenrich of Stoutsville spoke to the school during the chapel hour on Wednesday. He told the story of "Joseph, the Dreamer." Selections by the orchestra and a prayer sung by the first and second grade completed the program.

NAZIS TO HOLD GERMAN POWER 2 MORE YEARS

Report Sent to Roosevelt Says Germany to Fail Financially, Economically

PARIS, March 21—Germany faces financial and economic collapse, but the Nazi government will hold its power for several years. This is the conclusion reached from a special investigation of the German situation by the American embassy staff in Berlin and forwarded to President Roosevelt, says the usually reliable financial daily, "Agence Economique Et Financiere," today.

Summed up in chapter headings, the substance of the 20-page report, according to the newspaper, follows:

- 1—No Pacific evolution is possible in Germany.
- 2—The Nazi government is destined to last several years.
- 3—The financial ruin of Germany is in sight.
- 4—Economic breakdown will follow.
- 5—Germany's raw materials will become more and more scarce after April.
- 6—Confiscation of major industries is to be feared.
- 7—Must American firm established in Germany close?
- 8—Germany's present resources are too small for the present German population.
- 9—War in central Europe is possible.

TOO MUCH FOR HEART

VIENNA—A 75-year-old policeman, Ferdinand Mann, dropped dead the very moment when the Golden Medal of Honour was pinned on his breast by a representative of the government on the 50th anniversary of his joining the police.

Ten Presidents owned slaves: Washington, Monroe, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Johnson and Grant. Lincoln never owned slaves.

Finances Still Low

The city's finances remain in difficult circumstances, Ben Gordon, chairman of the council's finance committee reports.

The general fund has only $629,98 in its treasury. Other funds contain the following amounts: library, $1,832.02; auto street repair $4,688.59, and gasoline tax fund, $2,065.09.

The Berger hospital fund shows no balance.

To Rebuild Sidewalk

Service Director William Justus has been instructed by council to inform owners of the service station property at Soled and Main streets to rebuild the sidewalk at the corner to provide protection for pedestrians.

The curb is to be replaced and a catch-basin installed. One block of the walk adjoining the Hosler property sidewalk is also to be rectified.

New Job Set Up

An ordinance setting up the technician's duties at Berger hospital as a separate department within the institution was approved by council. The technician is to receive $75 monthly and be given the privilege of living at the hospital. Books are to be kept separate from the hospital books and an inventory of all equipment in the laboratory and X-ray departments taken each year.

The move does not mean a new employee will be added at the hospital, however, but it does mean council expects careful attention paid to this department by one person who shall be responsible to the safety director. The technician's bond shall be $500.

Would Exempt Airport

A resolution was approved by council to apply to have land used by the airport, now under construction, be made tax free. This land was leased by the city from S. C. Elsea and subleased to the local chapter of the National Aeronautical association.

Hopkins Visits F. D. R.

Harry L. Hopkins

After presenting Ohio's relief controversy to the president, Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins is pictured leaving the White House. Grand jury investigation at Columbus was ordered following Hopkins' charges that members of Gov. Martin L. Davey's campaign committee solicited funds from firms selling relief supplies. Governor Davey, appearing before the state general assembly, attacked the New Deal and called Hopkins "a character assassin," after which the legislative body authorized investigation of the governor's charges of waste and inefficiency in Ohio relief administration but refused to authorize the state attorney general, a Republican, to investigate Hopkins' charges of corruption by Davey's campaign committee.

M'CRADY TO FILE CHECK CHARGES

Police Chief William McCrady expected today to file charges of uttering and publishing a forged check against Bronson H. Mounts, 23, of Omega, O., who tried to pass checks for $150 and $125 on the Williamsport bank and several other places of business, Tuesday.

Mounts was arrested in the south end. He denied the charge although several persons identified him. Later he admitted he burned the checks while in the south end.

He had signed Harry Barthelmas' name to the checks, police charge.

SIGNALS FROM VENUS

COLORADO SPRINGS—A strange light that shone from the tip of Pike's Peak nightly and caused wild speculation on the part of Colorado Springs residents came from the planet Venus, Dr. Guy H. Albritton, professor of astronomy at Colorado college, explained. It was supposed at first that a motorist who had driven to the top of the 14,000-foot peak and had become marooned there by recent snows, was signalling with his car lights. Venus, setting behind the mountain, was in a direct line with Colorado Springs and the mountain top.

McDonald Seen Buckeye Star

COLUMBUS, March 21—A new gridiron star appeared on the Ohio State university horizon today in the person of Jim McDonald.

BAMBINO STEALS DIZZY'S THUNDER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21—Jerome H. "Dizzy" Dean didn't know whether to be happy or not today.

"Dizzy," ace pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, held a box-score decision over Babe Ruth, of the Braves, but the plaudits of the crowd of 6,500 fans who watched the Cards defeat the Tribe 5 to 4 yesterday were all for the Babe.

The 40-year-old former New York Yankees slugger went hitless before Dean for five innings and before Wild Bill Hallahan. One of Dean's offerings, however, he sent piling out to deep right center field, and Gene Moore, Cards center fielder, robbed him of what was an almost certain hit by making a brilliant catch on the fringe of an overflew crowd.

Dizzy and the Babe walked together to the clubhouse when they retired from the game.

The tribe went to Lakeland today for a game with the Detroit Tigers. Flint Rhem and Leo Mangum got the Tribal pitching assignment.

McDonald, formerly of Springfield high, as Coach Francis Schmidt formally announced that outdoors spring practice would start at the Big Ten school Tuesday.

In the news release sent out by the athletic bureau, it was said that one of "the most significant backfield developments is Francis Schmidt's plan to use Jim McDonald of Springfield at the full-back position providing he can beat out Dick Nardi of Cleveland for the post."

Stock is Boosted
The mere fact that Schmidt is considering giving a first string birth to a sophomore raises McDonald's stock materially. Ohio State is expected by gridiron observers to place one of the best two teams in the country on the football next fall so the Springfield boy may find himself in the national limelight as a member of the squad.

Pomeroy, which gained fame last year as the birthplace of Tippy Dye, the eleven's midget quarterback, may place another man on the football squad. Fred Crowe, a sophomore from the Ohio River city, is out after Red Cuskis's left end. Trevor Rees of Dover, according to present plans, has been shifted to right end.

PIRATES WIN FIFTH
SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 21—Pittsburgh's Pirates today had chalked up the fifth straight exhibition triumph by downing the Portland club, 8 to 1. In the fourth stanza 14 Pirates went to bat. After that Portland closed up.

PHILLIES CLOUT
WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 21—The strenuous batting drills Manager Jimmy Wilson has compelled his Phillies to undergo have borne fruit. Wilson was all smiles today, his happiness arising from the display of hitting power put on by his charges in clouting out 13 safeties to subdue Detroit, 9 to 8.

ATHLETICS BREAK CAMP
FORT MYERS, Fla., March 21—Following a brief scrub game between the regulars and the rookies, Connie Mack's Athletics begin packing today. Tomorrow the A's break camp and depart for the north and a series of exhibition contests. The Philadelphiaans squeezed out a 4 to 3 victory over the House of David here yesterday.

MEASURING WINTER
ANDOVER, Mass.—Striking evidence of how cold this winter has been in New England was uncovered by workmen laying pipes for a water main. In their digging operations they found frost had penetrated the ground 44 inches.

JUNIORS WIN CLASS MEET

Defeat Seniors, 14-10, With Friley Providing Fireworks For Winners

The junior class won the high school intramural cage championship Wednesday evening defeating the seniors, 14-10, in an interesting game. The underclassmen held a four point lead, 9-5, at the half and protected it through the remainder of the game.

Bill Friley, left handed guard, spelled victory for the juniors by caging three field goals and three from the charity circle for nine of his team's 14 points.

Johnny Heiskell refereed.

The lineup:

Juniors: G. F. Seniors: G. F.
Andrews 2 0 Bell 1 0
Thompson 2 0 Carter 1 0
Griffith 2 0 Shadley 1 0
Friley 2 0 Miller 1 0
Heiskell 2 0 Osborne 1 0

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

NEW HOLLAND TO BANQUET
New Holland takes its basketball seriously, but a defeat doesn't dampen the ardor of its fans to such an extent that the team is forgotten—A banquet a repetition of last year's successful event, is being planned Tuesday evening, April 2—Mrs. Mabel Louis and Mrs. Charles Landman are in charge of arrangements for a potluck supper—Kroger Babb, tourney official, will be present and a good speaker will also be on hand—Not only will the boys be feted but the girls will also come in for some honor.

Spare us—Nick Cullop, so pay his stooge and best friend (B) Hooey, may play first base for the Red Birds at the opening of the season—Nick looks on first base like an elephant on a peanut—it seems to him that there are plenty of good 1-1-1 players available without transplanting a lumberjacker to the infield—How about Harley Boss, who is now with New Orleans?

MOORE AND O'DEA SHINE
Two youths who performed for the Columbus Red Birds last season in the way to stardom in the believe the Sporting News, baseball publication—They are Terry Moore, aspirant to the center field post for the Cardinals, and Kenneth O'Dea, catching candidate with the Chicago Cubs—Moore is putting up a real fight for the middle pasture berth while O'Dea is almost certain to be second string receiver to Gabby Hartnett.

CARDS-TIGERS FAVORED
A consensus of sports writers picks the Cardinals and Tigers to repeat as champions of their respective leagues—The number of points gained by the teams in the poll was St. Louis, 1459; New York, 1322; Chicago, 1115, in the National loop—Going over to the American it is found much closer: Detroit, 1327; Cleveland, 1302; New York, 1178; Boston, 1128—Cleveland received 81 votes for first place against 59 for Detroit but the Tigers made up the point schedule on second and third choices.

Secret Plums
Though Jimmy Moffett's Housing Administration is equipped for high-powered publicity, his latest move is being kept carefully out of the headlines.

Reason for the hush-hush is that FHA wants no deluge of job seekers for the new posts. Their files already contain enough applications to fill the 200 jobs fifty times over.

Instead, they want to parcel the new jobs out among Senators as political plums. Most patronage having been exhausted, 200 plums at $2600 will be welcome on Capitol Hill.

Press Relations
Richard Whitney, facing rebellion in the ranks of the New York Stock Exchange, is considering withdrawing as a candidate for re-election.

The chief complaint that Wall Street critics are making against Whitney is of an involved nature. It is contended that he has failed to build up "good press relations" for the Exchange.

What they really mean is that the brokerage business is dull and they believe it is due to the lack of the right kind of publicity.

The public, brokers agree, could be brought back into the market if the right kind of ballyhoo was conducted.

Whitney, pompous and ponderous, they demand be replaced by a breezier figure. Their candidate is Charles Gay, head of the brokerage firm of Whitehead & Co., and a present member of the board of governors of the Exchange.

COURT LET BEGINS IN COLISEUM

Game Finds New Matamorras, Oxford Meeting; Waterloo Is Attraction

COLUMBUS, March 21—Ohio's annual high school basketball tournament at the state fairgrounds began today.

At one o'clock sharp, in the cavernous space of the coliseum at the state fairgrounds, to the accompaniment of lusty cheered cheers from the throats of a crowd of high school youngsters, Matamorras and Oxford started pitted into each other and wonched the race for the 1935 basketball titles.

An hour later, Maumee and Marietta were to clash and so on. The battles will rage until Saturday when there will emerge two champions—one a champion of Class "A" and the other champion of Class "B."

Teams and their crowds of supporters began pouring into the coliseum yesterday afternoon and the numbers were to be swollen by thousands today. The coliseum, with its extra bleachers, holds 6,500 persons and standing room signs are expected to be hung out on all three days.

No one seemed to know why this interest in this year's event was so great but the wave of excitement suddenly welled up and promises to surpass anything in history of the high school event.

There were contributing factors, including general improvement in business and a basketball revival. The latter evidence by increased receipts at all high school and college court games this year, unquestionably, too, the presence of the amazing Waterloo team drew greatly to the interest of the crowd.

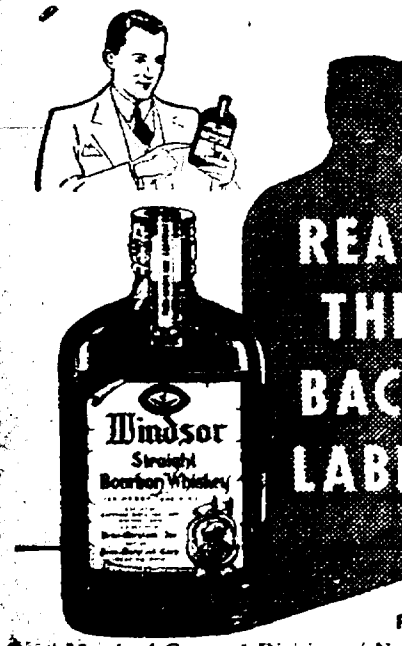

After the Matamorras-Oxford and Maumee-Marietta games formally launch the tournament, two Class A games will be run off. The first one will be between Dayton Stivers and Coshocton. Stivers eliminated Dayton Roosevelt, 1934 champions, in the district play. Coshocton eliminated Dover.

The second Class A tilt, at 4 p. m., will give tournament followers their first insight to the playing of Greenfield McClain, which will meet Lima Central. McClain was one of the two Class A finalists that defeated Waterloo in regular season games and is regarded as the "hottest" of the tourney.

Between the afternoon and evening sessions, an exhibition game between Columbus North and Marysville will be run off under direction of Hernab Sayer, former Heidelberg coach, in which there will be no tip-off and baskets will count one, two and three points, according to the point from which they are scored on the floor. It is designed to eliminate the "big man menace" in basketball.

While the teams play, there will probably be fewer high school bands in the stands than in previous years. Because of the expected attendance, they are not being admitted free this year. But are bands needed when there is a surging mass of 6,500 people in the stands hanging on every play.

Thirty-eight Bankers Coming to Trial In Half-billion Dollar Detroit Smash

Government Begins Momentous Cases on March 26

By DANIEL L. WELLS
Central Press Correspondent
DETROIT, March 21. The trials of 38 bankers on charges of fraud and embezzlement, for which more than 800,000 depositors in Detroit's two largest banks have been waiting two years, is scheduled to begin in federal court here March 26.

The defendants, former officers and directors of the First National Bank of Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, were indicted last summer by a federal grand jury. The true bills were the outgrowth and result of a year's study and investigation by agents of the department of justice. They were searching for causes of the $500,000,000 failure of the two banks during the Michigan bank holiday, in February 1933.

The Michigan bank collapse led to runs on other banks throughout the nation, and finally forced President Roosevelt to declare the national bank moratorium on March 6, 1933.

Keenan in Charge
Assistant U. S. Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan, chief prosecutor of the criminal division of the department of justice, will prosecute the cases, it has been announced. Guy K. Bard, special assistant attorney general, who submitted the evidence to the grand jury for their indictments, will assist him.

Also involved in the trials are officers of the two holding companies which controlled the two banks. They are the Detroit Bankers company and the Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc. Bard has announced that the first men to be tried, of the 38 who have been indicted, will be three former officials of the defunct Detroit Bankers Co., and its subject bank.

They are John Ballantyne, 70-year-old veteran banker, who was once president of the holding company; Herbert L. Chittenden, former chairman of the executive committee of the First National Bank-Detroit, and John H. Hart, former executive vice president of the same bank.

Pecora Investigated Them
The affairs of the banks, holding companies, and the bank officials came under the scrutiny of the U. S. senate's committee on banking and currency during a two-month investigation more than a year ago. Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the committee, conducted the investigation.

Results of the Detroit investigation were cited in the committee's report, which pointed to "group" or holding company banking as subject to the greatest possible dangers in times of stress. The two holding companies in Detroit owned banks throughout the state, investment units, and many corporations, the investments in which were of disclosed to stockholders or depositors, it has been shown.

Impartial Judge Selected
"All these indictments," the department of justice said in a public statement, "were the results of prolonged investigation by our agents. The necessary preliminary hearings bearing on the assignment of a judge not disqualified to hear the issues involved have now been disposed of."

"The government is prepared to present its evidence in court immediately, and believes that the interest of justice requires that these cases proceed to trial without further delay."

The indictments were returned in two sets of true bills, the first indicting 13 officers of the banks, the second indicting directors and officers of the holding companies. Federal Judge Ernest A. O'Brien, of the eastern district of Michigan, will hear the cases.

COLUMBUS, March 21. The fight of a Warden Preston Therman, against his conviction as head of Ohio penitentiary will be carried to the court of appeals.

A BIG JOB

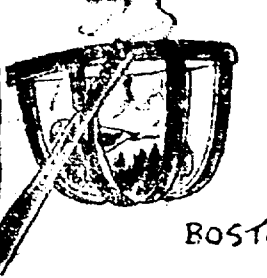

BERLIN, March 21. Berlin has other tasks besides fighting fires. An elephant named Toni slipped in the asphalt of one of Berlin's busiest thoroughfares and sat down, thus blocking street traffic. All Toni's efforts to scramble to his feet proved unsuccessful. A fire brigade came to the rescue, with the aid of a crane succeeded in hoisting "Toni" to an upright position.

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes
Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestines, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McBarn Co.

My supply of silver is somewhat limited but I like to serve correctly. May I use a dessert fork with a salad?

The small fork, sometimes called the "dessert fork," may be used for practically anything except the meat course, for which the large fork is used. Do not hesitate to use your small fork in serving the salad nor need you feel that your silver is limited in doing so.

Do you have a recipe for bran waffles? Are they made with a foundation recipe?

Bran waffles are a great delicacy. They may be served as a dessert topped with fruit, or as regular waffles with bacon and sausage.

Bran Waffles

1 1/2 C. flour
4 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. sugar
2 eggs (whites and yolks separated)
1 C. sweet milk
1/2 C. melted shortening
24 C. All-bran

Sift the dry ingredients. Beat egg yolks and combine with milk. Add to the dry ingredients and mix well. Add melted shortening and the All-bran. Add the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a hot waffle iron until the mixture ceases to steam. Makes 6 waffles.

SENATE FAVORS BILLS TO ALTER COUNTY GOVERNMENT

COMMITTEE APPROVES PLAN TO COMBINE SEVERAL JOBS

COLUMBUS, O., March 21.—Ohio's county government commission, dedicated to the task of remodeling this state's century-old system of county government, shifted into high gear today for the first test on a score of bills to combine the functions of various sub-divisions before the legislature.

Members of the commission and their sponsors of the so-called remedial legislation entered their fight in the state senate, where two of the commission's bills were recommended for passage by the committee on political sub-divisions today.

Would Combine Jobs
These bills included a measure by Sen. Maurice W. Lipscher, (D) of Youngstown, to permit counties, by a majority vote, to combine the offices of county auditor and treasurer and county clerk of courts and recorder; and another bill by Sen. Lipscher to transfer the duties of preparing semi-annual tax bills from county treasurers to county auditors.

At the same time they concentrated efforts on a special sub-committee in the house, to which was referred the "big bill" or major proposal of the commission, a measure by Rep. Kenneth Petri (D) of Galion, to enable counties to adopt one of three alternative forms of centralized county government.

Pointing to an estimated annual saving of $500,000 if every county in Ohio takes advantage of the proposal to combine offices of treasurers and auditors, Charles P. Taft II, of Cincinnati, chairman of the county government commission appointed by Gov. White in December, 1933, today claimed the measure would be the first step to eliminate "unnecessary expense in county government operation." He estimated combining offices of clerks of courts and recorders, also permitted under provisions of the Lipscher bill, would result in a saving of nearly $200,000 a year if all 88 counties took advantage of the measure.

A duplicate of the Petri measure, introduced in the senate by Sen. Willard Campbell (R) of Cambridge, has been given a preliminary hearing and action by the political sub-divisions committee is expected early next week. Sen. James Metzgerbaum (D) of Cleveland, chairman of the committee, indicated today.

Combine Duties
These measures, combining most of the features of the other county government bills, the organization of the state.

All county functions would be consolidated under five administrative departments, subject to the supervision of the county commissioners and a county manager.

The three alternative forms of organization provided included: a county manager plan, similar to city manager forms of government; a plan under which the county executive would be elected by voters of the county, subject by policy supervision of the commissioners; and a system which would authorize county commissioners to select a county executive, directly responsible to them.

All three, however, would set up the following five departments, under the administrative supervision of a county executive:

A department of public works, including county surveyor's department, supervision of county buildings and duties of sanitary engineers.

A department of welfare, combining supervision of county institutions and administration of all relief except soldiers relief and mothers' pensions.

Department of finance, combining

MOTHER OF FIVE SHOT TO DEATH

REYNOLDSBURG, Mar. 21.—Leaving five children motherless, Mrs. Laura Mae Stewart, 38, was shot and fatally wounded in her home here today and shortly afterward Donald Johnson, 33, shot himself as authorities sought to take him into custody as the woman's suspected slayer.

Police blamed a lover's quarrel for the tragedy.

REYNOLDSBURG, March 21.—Mrs. Laura Mae Stewart, 38-year-old mother of five children, was shot and fatally wounded in her home here today as a climax to what police said was a quarrel with a jealous, former lover.

Mrs. Stewart died from bullet wounds in the chest and abdomen a few minutes after she was shot down. Before she lost consciousness, she mumbled "He got me."

Franklin county sheriff's deputies immediately started a hunt for Donald Johnson, 32, of Rose Hill, for questioning. He had been keeping company with the slain woman for two years. Jean Stewart, a 16-year-old daughter of the victim, is married.

The girl said her mother and Johnson had often quarreled recently after Mrs. Stewart started to go out with another man. The second man and her mother kept an engagement last night.

ing the functions of county auditors and county treasurers; Record division combining duties of clerks of courts and recorders; and

A law enforcement department, centralizing supervision over police, sheriff's staff and duties of the county prosecutor and coroner.

Other measures, still in committee, which would accomplish part of the charges incorporated in the Petri and Campbell measures, comprise the commission's second line of attack in the event, the all-inclusive proposal is defeated.

Councilman Dan Ryan and President John Goeller expressed their belief that the safety work is beneficial when properly handled and Mr. Goeller advised Mr. Shaner that school authorities should be interviewed and the work placed in the hands of proper youths.

GRAND JURORS HEAR DETAILS IN RELIEF WAR

sworn that he collected $6,500 for the campaign committee from persons doing business with the relief commission. Jones, like McNamara, has been suspended by C. C. Stillman, FERA administrator for Ohio, pending the outcome of the grand jury investigation.

Jones was the "collector" who, according to his affidavit made in Washington on March 16, was assured a "front seat" at the inaugural by Jack McCombe, Ravenna, chairman of the Davey inaugural committee, when he turned over a $2,250 installment to McCombe in a downtown hotel here on Dec. 20.

McCombe and Jack North, Cleveland coal dealer and attaché at Democratic headquarters, presented themselves at the grand jury room, both denying to reporters that there has been anything irregular about the manner in which they went about wigging out campaign and inaugural deficits.

Aller There, Too

The group was joined outside the grand jury room by Kenneth F. Aller, one of the "contributors." He, too, has signed an affidavit, alleging that Jones took him unless funds were raised for his job would be insecure and that McNamara had been promised the job of relief director or assistant director.

Aller's affidavit, made public in Toledo by Prosecutor Frazier Reams, told of turning over to Jones a total of $750.

Democratic State Committee Chairman Poulson did not join the array of witnesses waiting outside the grand jury room for their names to be called. He remained at Democratic headquarters, advising Prosecutor Hoskins to telephone when they were ready to question him.

Hoskins after a delay finally escorted himself with the grand jury and called the first witness. He was Dan Duffy, the governor's secretary who was appearing entirely on his own volition and after advised by the prosecutor that the affidavits did not incriminate him.

Duffy asked to be heard because some of the persons mentioned in the affidavits had used the secretary's name in statements to the newspapers.

Duffy spent 20 minutes with the grand jury. Upon leaving, he declined to make a statement, but said there might be an announcement later from Democratic headquarters.

Judge George Nye, Pike county Democratic leader, who had been subpoenaed, was excused from testifying after McNamara, who referred to him in a sworn affidavit, admitted he was mistaken and that Judge Nye was not present in a hotel room when McNamara handed McCombe an envelope containing $5,150 in contributions.

Book Examined

While the grand jury was busy

with witnesses, county detectives were reported to be checking names in a little grey book seized by the prosecutor at Democratic headquarters. It was reputed to contain the names and amounts received from campaign contributors.

Prosecutor Hoskins ordered a recess of the grand jury to permit him to confer privately with McCombe, chairman of the Davey inaugural committee. After the two had been closeted in the prosecutor's office for some time, a court stenographer was called in.

JUDGMENT BEFORE TRIAL

An Answer to President Roosevelt's Statement on the Public Utility Bill

In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the President sends a message to Congress which seeks to prejudice the case.

The issues are simple: Shall all public utility holding companies be ruthlessly destroyed without trial or hearing? Shall innocent investors everywhere throughout the country have their investments destroyed to further an untried and Utopian scheme of economic reform? Shall we go many steps beyond fair and adequate governmental regulation and put the utility industry of the country completely in the hands of a new bureaucracy at Washington? Shall utility operating companies and the service required by consumers throughout the country be crippled and demoralized by virtually taking the industry out of the hands of local regulation and of the managers who have been installed by and who are responsible to the investing public, which owns the properties?

The holding company has developed in the public utility field for the same reasons that it developed in other industries, and presumably for the same reasons which made it useful to the Government in establishing the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The President has stated that "if we could remake our financial history in the light of experience, certainly we would have none of this holding company business."

That statement apparently eliminates from any further consideration the great achievements made possible by the holding company in every major American industry. Most of the basic products which the American public buys come from holding companies. The corporate names best known to the public and most representative of high standards are those of holding companies. The destruction of the holding company, as provided in the proposed bill, is no longer a concern for the public utilities alone, but for all industry.

Moreover, the bill goes further than destruction of the holding company. It is not merely a holding company bill; it is also a bill directed against the operating companies, which so completely limits their powers as to make Federal agencies virtually the managers of the industry.

The public utilities have opposed this bill because they believe it to be unsound and harmful to both investor and consumer, and contrary to the public interest.

The right to express opinion, even when it is opposed to an administration measure, has not yet been abrogated. The utilities have endeavored honestly to inform investors and the general public as to the disastrous effects of this legislation. According to newspaper reports and the statements of Congressmen, thousands of individuals have written in protest against the bill. We shall continue to urge them to so express their opinions frankly and fully.

The President states that he is as "unimpressed" by these protests as he was by the similar effort against the Securities Exchange Bill last Spring, and that "the Securities Exchange Act is now generally accepted as a constructive measure." We would respectfully point out that what made that Act workable was the opposition that developed against the original bill which forced the adoption of drastic changes in the legislation as finally enacted.

That is all that we are seeking to do in our presentation of the facts before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. We do not object to a fair and constructive bill. But we will not be deterred from our purpose in submitting to the Congressional committees the true facts of the situation, convinced in the belief that in due time the justice of our position will prevail.

FRESH AIR HELPS MAKE DIONNE 'QUINTS' NORMAL TOT

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN,
(Copyright 1935 by International News Service)

CALLANDER, Ont., March 21.—These Dionne quintuplets are "normal babies." They are "bright children" who haven't had a cold since they were born last May 28th—almost ten months ago.

I am told this by the one person who should know—Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, the famous country doctor who has been treating and caring for them since birth.

From another authoritative source—Chief Nurse Louise De Kiriline—I learn that the babies "love apple sauce and eggs"; that they have no likes or dislikes and that they "take everything easily."

Easiest to Wean
"They are the easiest babies weaned that I ever saw," said Mrs. De Kiriline, when interviewed at the "Dafeo hospital for the quintuplets"—a cheery, cozy little nursery built for the babies three miles into the country from the town of Callander. The hospital is located only 100 yards from the Dionne homestead where the babies were born and where the parents of the quintuplets, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, live.

It's great to see the way Dr. Dafeo looks after the "quints." He visits them every day, plays with them and acts toward them like a loving father. He has had his worries about them. But now that they are growing stronger and lovelier day by day he is happy over their condition. They're becoming "big girls" now and are cutting teeth.

The day I visited the hospital with Dr. Dafeo, Yvonne weighed fifteen pounds and six ounces and was the heaviest of the five babies. Marie, then weighing thirteen pounds and seven ounces, was the lightest. In between in weights were Annette, Cecile and Emilie, each varying a few ounces but all of them in excellent condition.

Dr. Dafeo attributed their fine condition to the care they have had, he said:

"They have had fresh air three hours a day all winter. Every morning since they were taken into the nursery last September they have been put out on the front porch in their buggies for three hours and that's why they look so rosy-cheeked and healthy."

Open Single Hour
Six persons can be found at the "hospital" every day. They are Dr. Dafeo, the three nurses—Mrs. De Kiriline, Yvonne Lereaux and "Pat" Mullin—the housekeeper, Laurence Clusieux and an orderly named Telephone Demers. The hospital is open to the public for one hour a day—between 2 and 3 p. m. visitors are allowed to see the babies through glass windows.

"Can you tell the babies apart?" I asked Mrs. De Kiriline as I walked Mrs. Dafeo chucking the babies under the chin and jollying first one of them and then another.

"Oh yes," she exclaimed, "Yvonne and Annette act much alike. They have certain little mannerisms, such as the way they wrinkle their noses or make sounds or purse their lips. Cecile has a rounder face than the others and is a little blonder. Emilie has a more pointed face. She has the smallest face and she is very lively. Marie you can't miss—her face is quite different. She is the one with the madonna face and her manner is more restrained than the others. 5 o'clock each morning. It is then they are all quite vivacious. Never they get their first feeding. Every second day they receive sun lamp Mrs. De Kiriline is a veteran attendant. Their second daily feed—Red Cross nurse, having seen ser-ing takes place at 9 a. m. from vice with both the Russian and 9:30 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. the Swedish Red cross. Praises Government

Dr. Dafeo praised the Ontario government for the manner in which they came to the aid of the babies and the Dionne family. He recalled how Red Cross nurses were brought in how the govern- ment obtained supplies; construc- ted the road leading from Callan- der to the hospital, a distance of three miles and how they provid- ed necessities from the time the babies were born until the first listening to wifely instructions was had both, his legs pressed against the kind words to say for the Ameri- can people whom, he said, "did could not be opened. THE BORROWER'S Best Credential
It used to be a common practice by many borrowers to renew their loans over and over again. They paid the interest but, as they were "good for it," did not seem to think it was necessary to be in a hurry to pay the principal.

Today this practice is recognized as unsound and contrary to safe banking principles. Banks are no longer permitted to extend loans indefinitely.

A "clean slate"—all old obligations wiped off—is a borrower's best credential when seeking further credit. The most welcome borrower today is the man who not only can pay, but does pay his loans at regular intervals.

WELCOME, KIWANIS

THE CIRCLEVILLE KIWANIS CLUB will be host tonight to some 200 fellow members from various towns in this section of the state at a district meeting. Visiting members from our neighboring cities of Chillicothe, Portsmouth, New Lexington, Logan, Lancaster, Columbus, Delaware, Newark and Marysville will be given a cordial welcome, not only by Circleville Kiwanians, but by every resident of the city.

Kiwanis clubs and kindred organizations are extending good cheer and fellowship to the four corners of the civilized world, discussing problems of international interest, bringing neighborhoods closer together, and promoting good citizenship throughout the land.

Welcome to Circleville!

HITLER ARMS THE REICH

THERE is no longer any purpose," Chancellor Hitler says, "in keeping the German people in ignorance of what the government is doing." This is an interesting statement in view of the subject under discussion — the development of the Reich's military establishment.

Germany's neighbors, particularly France, have charged that Hitler has been building for war, that the restrictions of the Versailles Treaty have been ignored, that a vast army has been in process of formation, that aerial development has progressed, that the scientific resources of the nation have been directed toward military preparation.

After many protests of innocence of these charges, peaceful professions and idealistic persiflage, Chancellor Hitler now comes into the open. His position is bold but not fundamentally surprising. It is in strict accord with many of the principles and beliefs expressed during the earlier stages of his public career when he declared that the right of the German people today to advance their interests through the medium of war was not essentially different from the right exercised by their forefathers in building the empire. In the past he has said that Germany must look to the extension of her boundaries and that her gaze naturally turned to the east.

Now, less than sixteen years after Germany signed the Treaty of Versailles in the Hall of Mirrors, a document which symbolized a disarmed, defeated and dismembered Germany, Chancellor Hitler, following a notable precedent, has decided that that treaty was just another scrap of paper and has treated it accordingly.

This news is probably the most ominous that has come from Europe since the close of the war. It means that Germany is again defying her old enemies, that she is again belligerent, animated by the old crazy martial spirit. Germany will put a half million men under arms for the purpose of establishing her salvation and her vindication. In doing so she will take the road that leads to war.

France at last has taken official cognizance of the American depression. Hotel rates are down 25 per cent.

A fox at Groton, Mass., turned and chased the hounds, demonstrating that that is a game at which two can play.

Many will be glad to know the government favors lower utility rates if it classes the postoffice department as a utility.

If the government operated the utilities would rates have declined as rapidly during the depression as postage rates.

It must be understood, of course, that Methuselah never had to cross a street intersection in the midst of whirling motor traffic.

According to the newest of the magazines in our dentist's outer office, business was never better and 1928 may prove an even bigger year.

A Thought for Today

GYPSY GIRL

READ THIS FIRST:
Consuelo, a beautiful gypsy girl who longs to dance, is loved by the Dummy, a deaf mute, and Marcu. She despises her mother, Andra, but is fond of her father, Vitu. Marcu tempts Consuelo with a huge diamond and she agrees to marry him until she suspects her gypsy sweetheart has tricked her about the ring's value. In town she sees three men playing cards near a private car on a railroad siding. She dances for them.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 14
THE BLASE gentlemen from New York who had seen the world's best dancers leaned forward.

"Ah, why was it that when she danced people seemed to hold their breath and forget the world about them? Did her feet beat out from the ground magic that drugged them, or was it that because she danced on the heights she lifted them up with her?"

"The end."

"Gypsy girl, you're wonderful," Stewart said and the others joined with him.

Consuelo brushed the perspiration from her forehead and breathlessly held out her arms, her body thrilling with the rhythm that still thrrobbed through her.

"I can dance, can't I?"

"Id say!"

"Kid, you're great!"

"Boy, when you step around like that you make my blood run hot and cold and I feel like a satyr ready to grab up my flute and go leaping around. Crazy, eh what?" It was Doug. Strangely enough, they did not laugh at him. "Do you know," he continued, "that you've danced before one of the biggest theatrical backers on Broadway?" He pointed to the gray-haired man. "This is Stewart Blacknir, the man who has made Broadway shows famous. He's the papa with all the dough that stands behind the scenes and never gets any of the glory, but nevertheless they all 'yes' him, from the stage hands to the biggest producers, and the names that flash in lights on Broadway are put there and taken out at his say so. King of the theatrical world." And Doug bowed before him.

"A hell of a friend you are," Stewart said. It was obvious that he was a friend. "Now you'll have her asking me for a job."

"The whistle of a train sounded down the tracks.

The porter appeared on the steps. "Gentlemen, train's coming." He gathered up the card table and glasses. "Better git aboard, gentlemen. As soon as that limo goes through we git right on the tracks and start puffing along to make up for all this lost time we been spending here."

The shadows deepened about the girl's eyes.

"You're going now?"

"Yes."

"She sighed.

"You won't forget about my slippers?"

Blacknir looked long and hard at her.

"Gypsy girl, I won't forget about your slippers. I won't forget about you, I guess. Now listen closely, we have to pass over this road in exactly 10 days and we'll have to wait here again. You come here and I shall have the slippers with the real high heels for you. It's a promise. Now remember, in 10 days I'll make it a week from Thursday. A week after next Thursday, understand? I'll bring you the prettiest pair of slippers you ever saw."

The train on the main track was roaring down upon them.

NEWS FROM HOME

A Circleville resident, who recently returned from a winter's sojourn in the south, told me that the most enjoyable hours of his vacation trip were those he spent in reading the news from the old home town in The Herald every day. He said he learned to appreciate the paper more than ever and read every word in it—even the classified ads. When the paper failed to arrive on schedule time, he anxiously awaited the next appearance of the postman to learn what the folks back home were doing.

"We are all interested in what our friends and home town people are doing," he said, "and there's no better way to keep track of them than through the home newspaper. I think you are getting out a good newspaper, much better than the average for a town the size of Circleville, and the best way to learn to appreciate the paper is to have it visit you each day while you are away from home."

This is just a suggestion: If you are going away on a visit or vacation trip, call the circulation department and have The Herald mailed to your address every day.

DON'T BELIEVE IN SIGNS
I saw a sign in the five-and-dime store window, "Kisses 10c." I rushed across the street to join the crowd and then saw the smaller lettering of the sign which gave me the information that they were selling candy kisses by weight.

In either event I wasn't marketing—just window-shopping.

Poems That Live

LOVE'S PHILOSOPHY

The fountains mingle with the river
And the rivers with the Ocean,
The winds of Heaven mix for ever
With a sweet emotion;
Nothing in the world is single;
All things by a law divine
In one spirit meet and mingle.
Why not I with thine?

See the mountains kiss high Heaven
And the waves clasp one another;
No sister-flower would be forgiven
If it disdained its brother;
And the sunlight clasps the earth
And the moonbeams kiss the sea;
What is all this sweet work worth
If thou kiss not me?

STYLES OF BEAUTY

(Columbus Citizen)

The International Beauty Shop Owners at their annual convention in New York defined what is beauty.

They say beauty this year of 1935 may weigh 134 pounds. Last year she weighed 155 pounds. But next year she must trim down to a mere 100 pounds, with proportionate trimming of height and waistline.

Beauticians have much to do with beauty, but still dissent seems to be in the offing. Jean Harlow has done fairly well during the Mae West period. Probably a philosopher might tell the experts that, after all, in the house of beauty there are many mansions, with space for the show girls as well as the ponies.

Next year when we hear young fellows talking about the blonde they saw, or the brunette or redhead, we shan't try to hold them technically to an even 100 pounds, 5 feet 1 inch tall. Each to his taste, and let the beauticians look out for themselves.

CAN YOU DEFEAT 3-NO TRUMPS

MRS. J. B. CLARKE, Los Angeles, sent in the following problem hand. She states that a friend from Fresno says 3-No Trumps cannot be made by West against an opening lead of a diamond. Mrs. Clarke asks if this is true. Play it double-dummy and see. The fact that during the auction East bid clubs and South bid hearts has nothing to do with the problem. Having only a singleton of partner's suit and a liddie suit of his own, North is justified in leading diamonds.

What is West to do next? If he leads off his 3 good clubs South will discard his blocking diamond. When West leads spades the K will win a low lead and the 8 will be led back. If West lays down his Ace of spades South must duck his K on the trick. Under no circumstances must South be forced to lead hearts.

If West does not take all his club tricks South will not at once cut off the K of diamonds. Suppose East is put in with a third round of clubs and leads a spade through South. That player must put up his K. If the Ace was only 2-odd can be made, as West can take only his Ace of clubs and Ace of spades. If the declarer lets South take the K of spades win, that player will lead the K of diamonds, and then lead his last spade, giving West only 2-odd. The 3-odd appears to be an old problem lead of S. S. Lenz, with unimportant changes from the original.

Evidently West can lead off 8 tricks against any opening: 1 spade, 2 hearts, 1 diamond and 4 clubs. To go game West must pick up an added trick in one of the other major suits. Lead the J of diamonds. Play South's Q as the K would indicate lack of the third lower honor. Of course the declarer has to win with his lone Ace. His only chance for game is to prevent South's discard.

Home Care for Sick Seen Often Better Than Hospital

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE HOME CARE of the sick by a member of the household is, in many cases, a necessity for financial reasons, and under no circumstances is it to be despised. Most sick people are more comfortable at home than at a hospital, and for most illnesses, even those that require confinement to bed, the patients are actually safer at home.

We have entered a hospital era in the country during the last decade, plunged on hospitals, and it has led to the idea that a sick person is not really doing himself justice unless he is sick in a hospital.

The idea that you should go to a hospital because it has so much better facilities for caring for your disease if an emergency should arise is, in most cases, a bunk. A hospital is a place for the homeless, or for strangers in the city, if they fall sick, and for just a few diseases that can be better treated there than at home.

Every household, then, should have one member who is the official nurse.

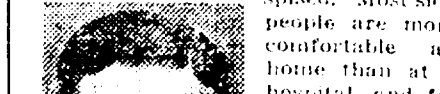

It will probably be the same one who does the cooking and the house cleaning and the dish washing, but that's all right. She can take over the other job better than suffer watching the other one make a mess of it. "Just like everybody else," as the fellow said when he was asked what his daughters did—"One of 'em does the cooking, and one of 'em takes painting lessons."

The official trained nurse of the family should, like the professional nurse in the hospital, help the doctor, not attempt to take his place. She should learn to read a fever thermometer accurately and take the patient's temperature at regular intervals. She should also learn to count the pulse and determine whether it is regular or not.

These things should be regarded in the form of a chart, similar to the chart the trained nurse reads. It is so easy to forget the time in which events happened and the time when they occurred that the chart is a primary necessity.

With the time recorded in the first column, the events of the day are accurately recorded. In the column on "marks," one can note such things as "nocturnal elevations," "restless," "complaints of headache," "vomited," "touched up some blood—saved for doctor to see," "cleansing bath," "sponge bath for fever."

There is nothing that is better calculated to make a good nurse than to keep the record on one's own accurately.

FARM BUREAU PLANS SURVEY TO AID FARMS

To Study Need of Electrical Service in Rural Areas of State

COLUMBUS, Mar. 21.—An exhaustive survey to determine the need for rural electrification in rural regions and the probable cost of establishing power units will be launched by the Ohio Farm Bureau April 1, officials announced today. Officials of county Farm Bureau units in every county of the state will survey their districts, under the direction of Perry L. Green, president of the state organization to learn whether enough rural residents are interested in extending rural electrification to warrant establishment of power units by the Farm Bureau.

To Draft Budget
A budget of estimated costs of inaugurating electric power service through power stations built by the Farm Bureau will be drafted following the survey and sent to federal Public Works administrators, with an application for federal aid, officials of the Farm Bureau said.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—Cooperative rural electrification projects in many states, developed with the aid of PWA, are in prospect as a result of legislative action already passed, or under way, in various states.

Bills drafted with the aid of the PWA have been introduced in the legislatures of several states, and are under consideration in others, among them Texas, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Minnesota, California, Washington and Utah.

In Texas the prospect of rural electrification development is allied with the harnessing of natural gas resources. According to public Works Administration Harold L. Ickes, approximately 1,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas is wasted daily in the Texas Panhandle oil district.

May Run Pipes
Texas authorities are drafting legislation, following conferences with PWA legal aids, to set up a state natural gas conservation authority with plans to run pipe lines to St. Louis and Detroit. Allied with this plan are proposals for utilization of natural gas to drive dynamos for electrification projects.

PERFECT RECORD

140-142 WEST MAIN STREET
CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

March 20, 1935.

TO ALL FORD OWNERS:

We believe you own the best car on the market within several hundred dollars of its price and you are entitled to the service that the factory intended you should have.

Mr. Henry Ford has said, "We believe from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer—it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect".

You are always assured of the proper labor charges and proper prices on Genuine Ford Parts in a Ford Agency because they are set by the Factory and we guarantee all prices and work done which is backed up by the Factory.

Our mechanics are schooled by the Factory and are in touch with all new service developments thru a regular Factory Service Bulletin. Also we carry a very large stock of Genuine Ford Parts to care for your needs.

We invite you to visit our Parts and Service Departments and give us a chance to explain to you just what Guaranteed Service can mean to you.

Also we have the most complete body repair and paint shop in the country and we ask that you give us a call when in need of these services.

FORD Strikes a new note in INTERIOR DESIGN—

• THE MODERN MOTIF—Red and black accentuate the instruments making them easier to see. The control knobs and cigarette lighter are Ivory Colored Plastic. Center striping is chromium. Convenient glove compartment.

EXPERTS in color design are enthusiastic about the new Ford Deluxe interiors. They have "spotted" immediately a new note in interior design—the subtle use of taupe grey as a background for feminine costumes.

Window mouldings, door handles, the instrument panel and even the beautiful, slim steering wheel, are all finished in blended greys. This color scheme cannot possibly clash with even the most brilliant ensemble. On the contrary, it will accentuate it.

And the upholstery!... Here is beauty coupled with long-wearing quality characteristic of custom-built cars. In all Ford DeLuxe closed cars you have your choice of two materials at no extra cost... Mohair, or soft, pin stripe broadcloth in Sedans and Coupes—Bedford Cord or 100% Wool Suede in Touring Sedans.
